New City Light Plan Will Start On Two Streets

To Replace Standards Now in Use

Will Use Mercury, BPW Decides

First modern lighting in the city under a long-range improvement program will be made on Wurts and McEntee streets as the result of action by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

The board voted to start the light program on a gradual scale through replacement of 23 "Bishop's crook" type lights with modern mercury vapor lights from the Rondout creek bridge on Wurts street to McEntee street, and over the latter street from Wurts street to Broadway.

Cost of operating the improved lights will be $636.81 above the present $1,495 annual charge, including installation, but the lights will be boosted from 10,000 to 20,000 lumens and will include modern fixtures.

THE NEW LIGHTS will be tilted on mast arms so that the vertical axis is at right angle to the grade on Wurts street as well as on the level area of McEntee street.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., which last year mapped a plan in cooperation with General Electric, of Schenectady, for the city's long-range improvement plan, noted that the "new color corrected mercury lamp is recommended in order to obtain a white quality to the light."

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, in suggesting that the board authorize a start on the light-improvement program, noted that $3,000 is in the budget for that purpose this year.

LIGHTING ON OTHER streets will be improved during the year, he indicated, and probably Foxhall avenue and Clinton avenue from Albany avenue to North Front street, will be listed for light improvement within the next month or two.

A proposal by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel that Ten Broeck avenue from Grand street to the railroad crossing be properly illuminated was referred to the light committee; the change of a single light on Rogers street was authorized.

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, notified the board that Frank McMahon, senior engineer's aide, who was granted a leave of absence from Sept. 20, 1954, to attend a National Guard training school at Fort Sill, Okla., has returned to the department.

The board voted to pay to James Berardi, contractor, $12,246.21, on recommendation of the city engineer, for work done on a Gill street sewer project, and to contractor Joseph Gruner $169.91 due him for work on a Lounsbery Place sewer.

German Debate Goes On

Final Approval Seen by Observers

Bonn, Germany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Overriding a Socialist motion for postponement, the Lower House of the West German parliament today opened a crucial three-day debate on the Paris treaties to arm 500,000 Germans in western defense.

Most observers agreed with government predictions that the pacts would win final approval despite the opposition of many West Germans.

Armed antiriot police guarded the parliament building against possible demonstrations as the Bundestag brushed aside the opposition Socialist move on a show of hands.

Introducing the motion, Socialist Deputy Chairman Carlo Schmid said ratification of the treaties would wreck any chance of reuniting divided Germany. He said the Socialists were more convinced than ever that Russian readiness to settle the German problem should again be tested by the western powers at the conference table.

REPLYING FOR the government, Christian Democrat Deputy Kurt Kiesinger declared the only way to reunification was through ratification. West Germany must first achieve security before it can restore freedom and security to the 18 million Germans in the Soviet zone, he added.

All four parties in Chancellor Konrad Adenaur's ruling coalition voted solidly against the Socialist motion.

Adenauer and members of his cabinet were on hand as the session began. Diplomatic and press galleries in the chamber were packed. Newsmen present included correspondents from various Soviet Zone newspapers and radio stations and a representative of Moscow's Pravada, organ of the Soviet Communist party.

WITH THE DEFEAT of the Socialist motion, Christian Democrat Hans Furler presented a 75-page majority report of the foreign affairs committee advocating ratification.

He stressed that West Germany's chief gain would be the ending of its 10-year occupation.

"Then all restrictions on our automonous freedom of action on internal and external affairs will be lifted," Furler said, adding that West Germany would enter future international conferences as an equal and indispensable partner.

Bonn would have the right to take up diplomatic relations and negotiations with all other nations, he said. Adenauer already has forecast direct diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

THE REPORT SAID West Germany would have a voice in all decisions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). But it added that the Bonn government should be given a seat on the NATO strategic planning group because of "the special nature of (German)

Faure's Aides Plunge Into Urgent Tasks

Only Four of 20 Cabinet Ministers Know Government Responsibility; Five Issues Tops

Paris, Feb. 24 (AP)—Faced with a mass of accumulated big problems, ministers in Premier Edgar Faure's new government plunged today into the task of learning their jobs quickly in advance of urgent decisions.

The National Assembly ended a 19-day governmental crisis last night by approving 309-201 Faure's bid to head France's 21st post-liberation government.

But only four of the 20 ministers picked by Faure for his conservative-toned cabinet served in the previous government of Pierre Mendes-France, and two of the four have different jobs.

While most of the ministers have had previous cabinet experience, they must catch up on the details of their new posts before venturing far in the realm of policy decisions.

Faure held the foreign office in the closing days of Mendes-France's term, after previously serving as finance minister. He must check out Antoine Pinay, the new foreign affairs chief, on pending international questions.

Once the cabinet really gets its hand in, these are the most urgent problems it will face:

1. A budget only partially approved. The military budget has not even been submitted. The Assembly voted provisional funds to carry the government through January and February and probably will use the same device for March. The budget could cause Faure trouble since he firmly resisted demands for more spending when he was Mendes-France's finance minister before moving to the foreign

Britain Blocks Britain Blocks

London, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Churchill government said today the U. S. and British air forces, packing an overwhelming nuclear punch, are the main deterrents to a hydrogen bomb war.

Lord De L'Isle and Dudley, the air minister, said the Royal Air Force is building its "V" jet bomber force—Victors, Valiants and Vulcans—to "a state of high efficiency and preparedness." He added:

"Thus, the Royal Air Force together with the U. S. Air Force will provide the main deterrent to aggression, since it is primarily by the threat of overwhelming nuclear striking power that an aggressor will be deterred.

"Should the deterrent fail, the function of the bomber force is, in conjunction with our allies, to make counteraction in war decisive in the shortest time, and to contribute powerfully to the defense of this country against attack by air and sea and to support the allied front in Europe."

The minister outlined Britain's atomic age air force plans in a white paper presented to Parliament on air appropriations for the coming fiscal year.

It was the third white paper on defense this week. Others disclosed plans for building naval and ground defenses in an era of possible nuclear warfare.

The "V" bombers will begin to come into service during the next 12 months, the white paper on air defense said. Meanwhile the Canberra medium bomber force was reported "at its full strength."

THESE TWO-ENGINED jet bombers provide "a powerful contribution to the capacity of the forces of the supreme allied commander of Europe, to strike back in the event of aggression," the white paper added.

The emphasis placed on the air force under Britain's new atomic age defense concepts was reflected in the increased money

Eddyville Pushes For New Bridge

Reconstruction of the Eddyville bridge on route 213 in the town of Esopus is being advocated by the Town of Esopus Taxpayers Association, Inc., and recently a request was sent by the association to Henry TenHagen, deputy chief engineer, New York State Department of Public Works, to make an inspection of the structure to observe its present "dangerous" condition.

Attention to the condition of the bridge over the Rondout creek at Eddyville was first brought to the state department's attention a year ago.

At that time the state told the association that inasmuch as there are more than 700 bridges on the highway system "in a similar category" no assurance could be given as to when this particular project could be handled.

Since that time traffic has increased over the bridge. In that connection the association calls attention of the state department to the expansion of the area due chiefly to an influx of employes at the new Kingtson IBM plant. A large development also is contemplated at St. Remy and that will further increase the traffic, the association points out.

J. Grady, president of the association, has forwarded the following communication to the

Congress Assured Of Pay Increase

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—A raise of at least 50 per cent was assured today for senators and house members. A 67 per cent boost—as voted by the House—appeared probable.

The Senate yesterday rolled up a big vote, 62-24, in favor of an increase in congressional pay from the present $15,000 to $22,500.

The measure was at once sent to conference with the House which last week voted 283-118 for a $25,000 salary. Both versions include boosts of $7,500 to $10,000 for all the approximately 400 federal judges.

THE FIVE SENATE conferees on the bill include several members who favor at least a $25,000 salary. This seemed to make it quite likely that the House figure would be accepted in the end.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), heading the Senate group, told a reporter "we will defend the Senate position as strongly as we can." But he added if House conferees are adamant, "we will have to make some adjustment."

The three House confereees all were strong backers of the $25,000 salary in that body.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), a House conferee, said in an interview he was confident that group would stand fast for $25,000.

KEFAUVER TOLD the Senate yesterday he thought a $25,000 salary was "fully justified," and Sens. Kilgore (D.-W. Va.) and Dirksen (R. Ill.), other conferees, have supported a $27,500 figure recommended last year by a special commission.

The salary boost will be the

Court Kills TV Ruling

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today knocked out a Communication Commission rule limiting the number of television stations which may be owned by the same interests. The decision was unanimous.

The court said "the selection of a certain number, such as five or seven, as the maximum beyond which no multiple owner will be permitted to go, regardless of what he may be able to show in his own behalf," is contrary to provisions of the Communications Act.

Nine Are Killed In Plane Crash

Windsor, Mo., Feb. 24 (AP)—A four-engined air force tanker plane on a refueling training mission caught fire shortly after takeoff last night, plunged earthward and exploded, killing 9 of 11 men aboard.

Two crewmen parachuted to safety and two were reported missing.

The plane, which took off from the Sedalia Air Force Base, crashed on a farm about six miles northwest of this central Missouri town.

A conductor riding in a caboose on a Rock Island freight train saw the huge craft flaming in the air.

"IN A MATTER of seconds it had burst into a regular torch," said Asa Gunn, 62, Eldon, Mo., "and then it disappeared over a knoll ahead of the engine.

"There was an awful flash—it want way up in the air. I knew then the plane had crashed and exploded, though I couldn't hear the noise because of the train."

2 Leaders May Talk of China Issue

Attempt Likely To Patch Views

Bangkok, Feb. 24 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden may talk over the Formosa and Chinese offshore islands situation tonight at a dinner at the U. S. Embassy.

The possible effort to reconcile differing Anglo-American views took the spotlight today as the eight southeast Asia defense treaty nations held their second day of closed conferences.

The conference unanimously chose Bangkok for the permanent secretariat.

DULLES STRESSED the importance of Formosa to the overall defense of southeast Asia in his talk to the closed conference yesterday.

In a sweeping review of the Far East situation he said potentially greater dangers face the free world now because of internal pressures on the Communist hierarchy.

In the face of these dangers, he stressed, not only the resources of Formosa but those of South Korea, Japan and Indochina are deeply involved in southeast Asia security and he wished they were represented at the Bangkok conference.

TWENTY SOUTH KOREAN divisions and 300,000 Nationalist Chinese troops ready to fight in Formosa and the offshore islands put a damper on Red China's warlike ambition in the Far East, he declared.

Northern, central and southeast Asian forces, together with the mightiest U. S. Pacific Fleet and air striking power in history make Red China chary of starting what might quickly develop into a three-front war which China wants to avoid, he declared.

He made it plain that Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa and Syngman Rhee's Republic of Korea must be maintained as barriers against Red Chinese aggression. Their col-

$17,200,000 Trim Seen as Possible

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP)—A Republican legislative leader says $17,200,000 could be trimmed from the Capital Construction Fund in Gov. Harriman's budget to avoid the corporation tax increases the governor has asked.

Joseph F. Carlino, majority leader of the Assembly, said today it was his personal opinion that it would be possible to reduce highway spending by that amount and make it up later out of funds from a proposed 750-

All Civilians Are Removed From Nanchishan Island

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 24 (AP)—Nationalist China said today all civilians had been withdrawn from tiny Nanchishan, a Red-threatened island outpost 140 miles north of Formosa.

The withdrawal seemed an almost certain prelude to a military evacuation. The island is reported garrisoned by some 5,000 regulars and guerrillas.

THERE WERE approximately 2,000 civilians on Nanchishan, a three-square-mile island 23 miles off the Red mainland and the northernmost anchor of Chiang Kai-shek's island chain.

About 800 civilians, mostly army dependents, were withdrawn two weeks ago. Those being brought to Formosa today in Nationalist craft are mainly fishermen who have spent their entire lives on Nanchishan.

The expected military evacuation of Nanchishan would leave the Nationalists with only Quemoy and the Matsus outside the U. S.-protected Formosa defense zone, which embraces Formosa itself and the nearby Pescadores islands.

THE ACTION FOLLOWS by less than three weeks the Nationalists evacuation of the Tachen islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

Army commanders had been pressing for a finish fight at Nanchishan, but the general staff overruled them because there was no possible hope of U. S. support in its defense.

The island is outside the Formosa Strait and, in the U. S. view, not essential to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores, which President Eisenhower has promised to guard.

EARLIER TODAY, official sources denied Nanchishan was being evacuated. They said air and naval blows against the Reds had lessened, for the time being the Communist threat there.

The latest reported strikes against the Reds were delivered

Reynolds' Yacht Burns Near Miami

Miami, Beach, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Tobacco heir Richard J. Reynolds and his auburn-haired wife, Muriel, were forced to abandon their 55-foot yacht Scarlett O'Hara today because of a series of fires which broke out while the luxury craft was at sea.

Reynolds, 49, and the former Mrs. Muriel Greenough, 36, took to a lifeboat with the yacht's captain and safely reached the beach by rowing and spreading a tarpaulin as a sail.

The Reynolds were married Aug. 11, 1952, at Sapelo Island, Ga. It was the third marriage for each.

Their mahogany-hulled boat burned and virtually sank, only its prow extending above the surface.

Trenton Six Attorneys Got Less Than $6,000 Of $300,000 From Civil Rights Congress

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—Legislative investigators have been told that defense lawyers for the "Trenton Six" received less than $6,000 out of a fund estimated at $300,000 raised by the Civil Rights Congress for the purpose.

The testimony came from O. John Rogge, former assistant U. S. attorney general who has been counsel in a number of civil rights cases including the murder case of six Negroes in Trenton.

Rogge told the probers that $5,000 paid to him and $800 given to a New Jersey attorney for expenses constituted the bulk of Civil Rights Congress payments for legal defense of the "Trenton Six."

He said the New Jersey attorney general estimated that $300,000 was raised by the Civil Rights Congress in the name of the "Trenton Six."

The Civil Rights Congress, which is listed by the U. S. Attorney General's Office as subversive and Communist, held the spotlight yesterday as the legislators opened hearings.

The investigators — members of the joint legislative committee on charitable and philanthropic agencies and organizations—continue the hearing today.

The legislators are investigating the alleged diversion to subversive uses of millions of dollars ostensibly raised for charity and other worthy causes. Committee Counsel Bernard Tompinks said the purpose of the hearings is to prepare legislation, possibly requiring organizations to keep full financial records for legislative scrutiny when required.

Tompkins, a Republican former state senator from New York city, said he would show that some of the Civil Rights Congress Fund was diverted to the defense of the 11 top U. S. Communists convicted of conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Tompkins said non-Communists and anti-Communists were among contributors to the "Trenton Six" fund.

He called the Civil Rights Congress "a thoroughly Communist-controlled and dominated organization."

Roggee told the committee that he has "reluctantly come to the conclusion that some form of remedial legislation" is required to protect contributors to funds raised for civil rights and similar causes.

"The abuse that has grown up," he said, "is that groups sometimes select appealing cases with genuine civil liberties issues and then exploit those cases to their own ulterior ends."

Rogge told the investigators he is favor of requiring that

Thruway East of Hudson Is Proposed by J. S. Bixby

Poughkeepsie, Feb. 24 (AP)—Construction of a thruway-type highway east of the Hudson river is advocated by James S. Bixby, a district engineer of the New York State Public Works Department.

He proposes a highway extending from Elmsford, Westchester county, northward to connect with the Berkshire highway, running from south of Albany to Massachusetts.

Bixby, a civil service employe whose district includes the Hudson river valley area, made the proposal yesterday in addressing the Poughkeepsie Rotary Club.

He said he tried without success to persuade former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and former Public Works Superintendent Bertram D. Tallamy to build such a highway. The Republican officials went out of office Jan. 1 when a Democratic administration took over at Albany.

The Taconic Parkway east of the Hudson river makes no provision for truck traffic, Bixby noted. He also spoke of the heavy traffic on the Albany Post Road between New York city and Albany.

In 1939 the Bureau of the Budget was reorganized in size.

State Aid Asked To Help Improve Police Services

The Police Conference has recommended more state aid to municipalities to improve police service, and at the same time warned the legislative leaders considering the state budget, of a "critical condition" in police service throughout the state, saying it should no longer be ignored.

The increasing number of resignations from police ranks, the forcing of policemen into part-time jobs in order to earn a living, and the inability of departments to secure qualified replacements, said Secretary Peter Keresman, of this city, has added up to a critical situation which cannot be ignored without fateful consequences.

The pile-up of unsolved crimes, general lawlessness and mounting juvenile delinquency, he emphasized, is the result of the sharp reduction in experienced police personnel and the lack of state-wide police standards and training.

Keresman charged that lowering standards to attract new men to jobs at which other men could not make a living is a "ridiculous" approach to restoration of adequate police service.

He said policemen who don't resign are turning to a variety of part-time jobs, such as gravedigger and night watchmen in banks. In one city a police official is a part-time tavern bartender, another a chauffeur. Some municipalities are encouraging policemen to take part-time work to bring their pay near normal. An up-state police chief, Keresman reported, resigned this month after 34 years on the force, saying he was "sick of being given relief checks instead of paychecks."

Winter Business Displays Pickup; Spring Is Awaited

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—As winter grows old without grace industrial leaders look to spring to test the little business boom.

They know that business has picked up smartly in recent months. And in spite of the miserable weather lingering on, it's been a good winter for business.

What they aren't entirely sure about is: How much of the gains are due to the auto industry's early timing of production? and how much of the spurt in auto output and sales is actually "borrowing from the future?"

THE AUTO INDUSTRY'S own private boom has pepped up other industries like a predated spring tonic.

Steel output is climbing toward 90 per cent of capacity, highest in 16 months. Since steel furnaces need coal, the mines are having a revival, too. And the railroads that haul the coal, the iron ore, the steel and the products made of steel are reporting better days.

New car dealers now have in stock a half million or more autos ready for the motorists when spring urges them onto the highways. The car makers, running one of the keenest competitive races in years, continue to pour the 1955 models from the production lines.

THE PRODUCTION RACE started two or three months early this time. The companies' sales executives say that customers are buying early, too, and that the fast pace of the production schedules is being justified.

The only question appears to be: Will the public's appetite for the new cars be satisfied early this time, also?

In reporting that business activity this winter is above that of a year ago, the commerce department gives a good share of the credit to the stimulation of the auto production race on the economy as a whole.

But it holds that other factors reversed the business downturn of last year and sent the economy on the way up again last fall.

IT LISTS THE RISE in consumer spending, once the public decided its earlier depression fears were unjustified; the spurt in home building, as credit eased and financing terms relaxed; and the increased spending by state and local governments which partly offset the drop in federal defense spending.

Businessmen note no sign yet of any letup in these factors. Spring, in fact, should bring increased consumer spending in many lines in addition to automobiles. When the last of the winter storms sweeps out to sea, home building is expected to take another upward spurt.

And the state and local governments have many spending plans just waiting for legislature to find the money through more taxes or more borrowing. The fedeal government may aid in some of these — notably schools and highways.

SPRING, IN TESTING the depth of the public's buying mood, could also answer another question bothering some businessmen: Will factory employment pick up, thus increasing purchasing power?

Although industrial production has risen above the level of a year ago, the Commerce Department reports that factory employment in January was trailing the year ago figure by three per cent. Increased productivity, due to more efficient plants and machinery, has much to do with the greater outflowing of goods from fewer workers.

Spring should test whether industrial production will go on climbing, people increase their buying, and still more workers find jobs. It's been a good winter in many industries, but they'll still be glad to see spring come.

Powdered Milk Answer to Film

Horseheads, Feb. 24 (AP)—The filmy gray stuff that draped homes and shrubs in this western New York village last weekend was called a little of everything—fuzz, cotton fiber, cob webs, and even radioactive.

But a scientist last night ended the mystery. He identified it as powdered milk—and no more radioactive than the air you breathe.

John B. Diffenderfer, manager of the chemistry section at the Westinghouse Electronic Tube Division plant here, said tests showed that the fibrous substance came from a nearby dairy processing plant that made powdered milk.

HE SAID IT WAS ONLY slightly radioactive, no more so than the air itself.

But in Rochester, about 100 miles north, the air was yielding what Eastman Kodak Co. scientists called radioactive "hot dust" from the atomic proving grounds in Nevada.

Eastman said the dust, detected Monday, was not radioactive to the point of endangering public health, nor would it interfere with film making as it did during atomic tests in 1945.

Holdup on Schedule

Pontiac, Mich. (AP) — The telephone rang at the sheriff's office late at night. "In about half an hour," the caller said, "another fellow and I are going to hold up the Avon Inn out on Adams Road." Deputies rushed to the scene and set up an ambush. A short time later two men walked into the lobby, drew guns and announced "This is a holdup." When officers stepped out of hiding places, the gunmen meekly surrendered. One of the men admitted making the phone call but could give no reason why he did it. However, police said, both men had been drinking heavily. The two were held on charges of armed robbery.

REVISED CIVIL SERVICE

The Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of Government, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, has released a report calling for revision of the government employment program with the aim of attracting and retaining top-level talent. It calls for the establishment of a senior civil service group of well paid, talented administrators with skill and experience. It asks for more merit raises and opportunities for advancement from the ranks of civil service. It also recommends more political appointments to handle jobs of a partisan nature.

The report is too long and detailed for any attempt to sum it up in a few simple sentences. Many of its specific recommendations may prove to be the answers to problems which have long beset the government in its relationship with its employes. It is also valuable because it tries to define the difference in function between those who are employed by the government in career civil service jobs and those who are appointed politically.

The present civil service system is certainly an improvement over the old spoils system under which every government worker faced the prospect of losing his job each time the administration changed. But there is room for further improvement. There may be objections raised to some phases of the most recent Hoover report but it does point the way to building a stronger and more efficient civil service.

An agricultural expert told a farmers' group recently that farm animals need affection and care as well as feed. We read his remarks twice looking for a quote from that famous old lady who kissed the cow.

WILL MOLOTOV SURVIVE?

How soon will they get Molotov? Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister for most of the years since 1939, has seen his equals and superiors come and go, mostly by violent deaths, but he still remains.

How does he do it? He must have some private source of power, comparable to the army or the secret police, else he would be dead by now. For one thing, he is constantly on his guard. Accounts of his stay at the White House and as Churchill's guest reveal that he always had in his room a loaded pistol and a loaf of black bread. He had lived a hunted life before, and never knew when he might have to do so again. He was prepared for any crisis.

Churchill describes him vividly:

"A man of outstanding ability and cold-blooded ruthlessness, he had survived the fearful hazards and ordeals to which all the Bolshevik leaders had been subjected. He had lived and thrived in a society where ever-varying intrigue was accompanied by the constant menace of personal liquidation. His cannonball head, black moustache and comprehending eyes, his slab face, his verbal adroitness and imperturbable demeanor, fitted him above all men to be the agent and instrument of an incalculable machine."

His very name is false. He was born Skriabin. He took the name Molotov, meaning "The Hammer," just as the Georgian Djugashvili took a new name, "Stalin," meaning "Steel." Both new designations fitted their wearers perfectly.

Sometimes we wonder when people remain silent whether they are actually speaking their minds.

LENT

Lent is a period of prayer and meditation. Some observe it by abstaining from things in which they find pleasure; for some it is a season of meatless days and attendance at special church services.

For all it provides an opportunity to recall the life of Christ and His teachings. No man can help being made better by an examination of the record of the deeds and words of Christ when He walked the earth preaching His doctrines of love.

This can be a season when those who profess to be followers of Christ can measure their own lives against His example. Members of other religious groups also, by translating His teachings into every area of their lives, can find at the end of Lent the strength and peace which was His greatest gift to man.

THE MISCALCULATORS

The miscalculations of statesmen are no different from the mistakes that any of us make. Statesmen are the same human beings that the rest of us are, except that they are supposed to be possessed of more information about important matters and a wider experience. It is not the possession of information that counts; it is the capacity to reason, to relate current material to the whole of human history, to grasp the impact of social forces and of psychological reactions to a pending matter that counts. Nations have been destroyed by the faulty judgment of those in power.

Of statesmen, it can only be said that some possess such judgment and some do not, and often history, distantly written, discovers the truth. Many of the calculations of European statesmen concerning their own and global affairs were influenced by their certainty that the United States would suffer a severe depression after World War II. Even as late as November 1953, "The Manchester Guardian," that palladium of British liberalism, published two articles on "Danger Signs of an American Slump."

The first article appeared on November 19, 1943 and here we are in the second month of 1955 and we ain't got no depression yet. Mr. Colin Clark said:

"The possible originating causes of depression —trifling or serious—in the American economy are now quite well understood by the ordinary well-informed man (though he may not be familiar with the economist's description of such causes as 'exogenous variables'). . . ."

Well, the American people never quite understood what Mr. Clark's "ordinary well-informed man" knew, with the result that we passed through the year 1954 without going to the Devil. Perhaps it is our ignorance that saved us. We just did not know how badly off we were, so we did nothing to make ourselves worse off. We just went on producing goods and helping Europe, including Great Britain, as though nothing were the matter with us. We did not know that we were as sick as Colin Clark diagnosed us to be. It is sad, indeed, that we are so unconscious of our defects, but somehow the Lord takes care of us, as He does of pigeons and drunks. In a learned editorial, "The Manchester Guardian" comments on the views of American economists:

"They expect to see between three and four million unemployed at certain periods of next year. Their reasons are much the same that Mr. Clark puts forward. But all of them, so far as we know, differ from him in one crucial point. They are convinced that the Government is able to take effective counter-action to prevent the recession from getting out of hand. This is where Mrs. Clark makes his chief point. He admits that Washington has learned the lesson taught by Keynes—in a depression, you must spend, not retrench. But if they are Keynesians, they are not Keynesian enough. . . ."

The truth of the matter is that the American consumer took care of the American market in 1954 and did rather well. It is true that the Administration failed to balance the budget, to reduce the national debt or restore the value of the dollar as it has promised to do. But despite all that, we did not go broke and have, in fact, shouldered a heavier-than-ever budget, which while it has not yet passed Congress, will in one form or another. And General Motors has entered upon a larger production program than ever before.

This is what "The Manchester Guardian" says about us:

"Up and down that vast country, business people, farmers, and ordinary consumers have been looking over their shoulders almost constantly for the last five years. They are always torturing themselves to decide whether they have borrowed too much, bought too much stock, or committed themselves too far to be safe in the event of a set-back. Yet business men have not shown any intention so far of reducing their expenditure for new plant and equipment even in 1954, and consumers have behaved with complete confidence. It would need more than the absence of a new stimulus to thrust that prosperous nation into chaos."

Brother, if you have not been looking over your shoulder, you should have. There is no telling what ghost of a depression you might have seen during 1954!

RHEUMATIC DISEASE IN INDUSTRY

The oldest and commonest diseases known to man are rheumatism and arthritis. In fact, evidence of rheumatism have been found in the bones of prehistoric man.

In Modern Medicine, Drs. B. Mintz and L. J. Goldwater of Columbia University, New York city, state that the great amount of arthritis and rheumatism found in industry appears to be associated with duties involving exposure to cold, heat, moisture, or sudden temperature changes; heavy efforts; excessive use of the same muscles; strains due to faulty posture; and acute injuries. They feel that a careful examination of the group of workers subject to the above influences while providing them with more suitable work would undoubtedly prevent much illness and allow for more efficient use of workers already handicapped.

The rheumatic worker may be satisfactorily employed without aggravating his disease or endangering his fellow workers. Thus a man slightly disabled by arthritis may be protected by attention to working conditions such as postural and other factors causing strain. Rheumatic individuals frequently remain active if given lighter or more appropriate duties. The more severely handicapped worker may require a very careful study of his abilities in order to place him on a job which he will be able to carry out.

According to the 1952 report of the U.S. Public Health Service, rheumatic disease is responsible for 9.4 absences, exceeding one week, per 1,000 insured workingmen, and for 20.3 such absences per one thousand women.

"Many deformities and disorders are brought on by unfavorable working positions and the overuse of muscles, such as handling pneumatic tools or simply by prolonged quiet standing." Policemen, soldiers, cooks, waiters, factory workers, dentists and surgeons may be affected.

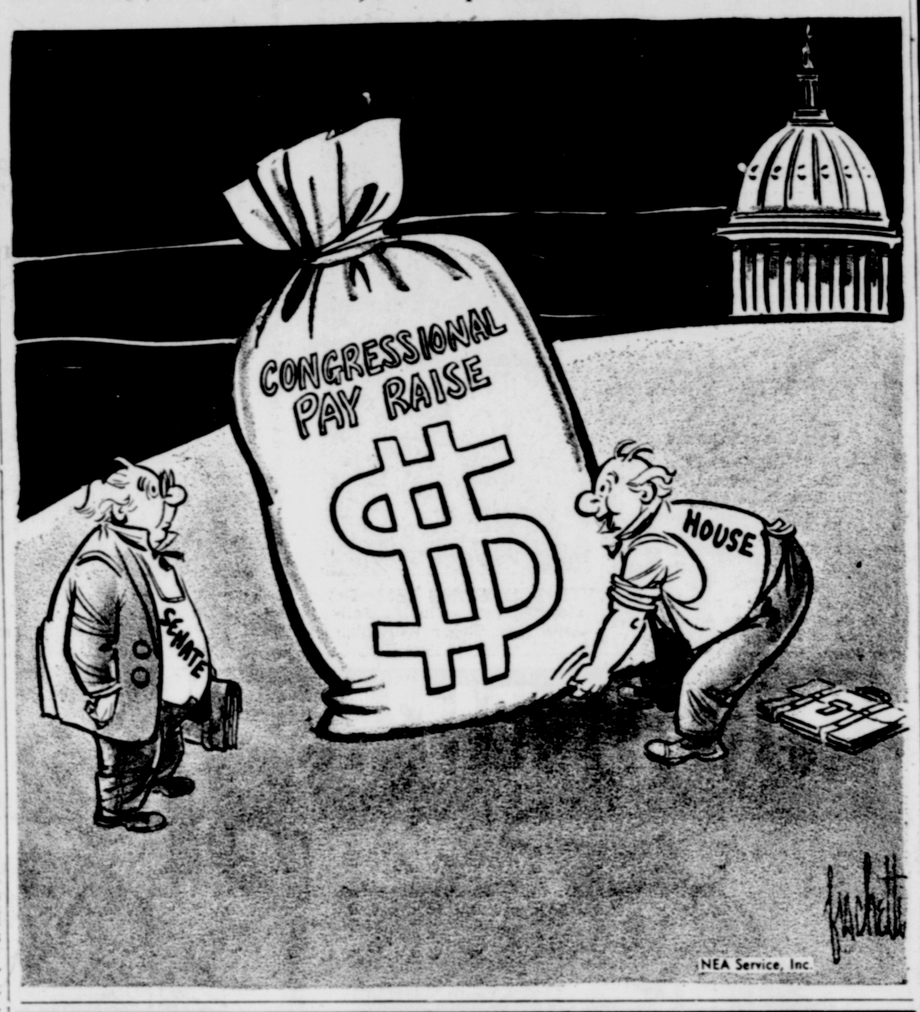

An example of constant wear and tear on special joints and muscles is the stevedore's heavy lifting. Back injury is associated with special or repeated handling of cargo rather than with falls or blows. As well as overuse of one part of the body, repeated movements involving intense effort, jolts or vibrations, unaccustomed work or return to activity after any absence may contribute to the onset of rheumatism. Local injury may bring on attacks of gout or disable an arthritic person out of all proportion to the extent of the injury. In reviewing 113 cases of disc injury (cushions between the bones of the spine), an insurance company blames 66 per cent on strains, 27 per cent on falls, and seven per cent on twisting movements.

Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis

There are many helpful suggestions to relieve suffering in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis" which may be obtained by sending 25 cents, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. "C'mon, Pick Up Your End"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — Right after Vice President Richard M. Nixon gets back from his tour of the Caribbean countries in March, he's going out to California on another type of good-will mission.

This will be an attempt to unite all factions of California Republicans and take measures to prevent a big party split in 1956.

Here in Washington, Vice President Nixon and Sen. William F. Knowland let on that there is no rivalry between them. Such warfare as exists today is characterized as feuding between factions that know one man better than the other, or that think they stand better chances of getting jobs by going all-out for one or the other favorite.

One curious sidelight of the situation is that Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Knowland are good friends. They talk over the supposed rivalry of their husbands and get pretty indignant about it, wanting to write letters to the editors to deny publicly that there is bad blood between them.

While this makes lovely peace talk, cynical political observers are betting all this harmony will vanish if President Eisenhower decides not to run again.

Neither Californian will discuss what will happen if Ike doesn't run, but they are trying to let on that they won't be rivals for the number one job.

Also, all the peace talk overlooks the importance of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, the real power in the state since ex-Gov. Earl Warren became chief justice of the U. S.

THE PENTAGON has been having a private crime wave on the huge parking lots which surround the Department of Defense headquarters. Metropolitan Park Police, who guard the area, are finding it difficult to break up the abuses.

Last month 32 cars were stolen and 48 cars were broken into. Favorite trick of the thieves is to take the jack out of the back of a car and steal one tire and the spare.

All Pentagon employes have been warned to lock their cars and keep anything of value out of sight. But breaking in and stealing still persists.

SEN. ROBERT KERR (D., Okla.), in a political newsletter to his state the other day, mentioned that Mrs. Eisenhower had been particularly attracted by the hat worn by a lady guest at a White House reception.

Senator Kerr says that it was reported to him that Mamie exclaimed to the woman, "My dear. That cute hat. Turn around and let me see it." The hat was described for the senator as "Quite a fetching thing—a small dressy hat made of black velvet and gold lace, trimmed in bugle beads and topped by miniature antennae from which dangled little gold tassels."

"You know," Senator Kerr told his constituents, "if such an individual antenna device could be actually used for broadcasting, instead of receiving, I might want to get one for myself."

"ANXIOUS TO PROTECT their subsidies and scuttle all independent competition, the big trunk airlines are spending some of their profits to wine and dine Senate aides . . . in a series of 'nonpartisan' meetings — cocktails, dinner and propaganda," says the Aircoach Transport Association newsletter.

"Since the Civil Aeronautics Board allows the scheduled airlines to charge their dues to the Air Transport Assn. into their mail-pay base," the letter continues, "it will really be the taxpayers who will help pay for the dinner, the menu of which might read like this:

Puree Monopoly
Prime Ribs of Mailpay
Rich Gravy
Potatoes a la Treasury
Dollared Greens
Lettuce, Inter-Island Dressing
Sparkling Franchise, 1938
Chocolate Profiterole
Big Four Cookies
Demi Tasse
(for Local Service Lines)
Corona Pan Am.

"After dinner, the usual act, practiced many times across the country, is to denounce the independent airlines in ringing tones."

DR. ALLEN V. ASTIN, director of the National Bureau of Standards, was rehearsing a demonstration of new methods for measuring minute differences in temperatures prior to an open-house exhibit. Several pieces of hot and cold iron were being used, but in arranging them, they got mixed up.

Not wishing to burn himself, the scientist announced: "And now you will have a demonstration of heat measurement without the benefit of instruments." Thereupon he wet his finger and proceeded to touch the pieces of iron, finding the hot ones by the sizzle.

Kansas City Star Case Brings Control of Press One Step Nearer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 24—Regulation and control of the press, despite the protection supposed to be afforded by the Bill of Rights in the Constitution, has been brought one step nearer to consummation in America by the decision in the case of the "Kansas City Star." A jury obedient to the highly prejudiced instructions of a federal judge now has convicted that newspaper of violating the anti-trust laws.

There are some 180 cities in the United States where a single newspaper ownership exists and where conceivably a politically minded administration can do what the Truman regime did in an attempt to wreak vengeance on the "Kansas City Star" for its crusade against the Pendergast machine of the Democratic Party and its vote-getting frauds in that area.

Harry Truman, as senator, helped to bring about the appointment of the judge in the case over the objection of Mr. Roosevelt's attorney general—Francis Biddle—who questioned his fitness for the bench. The "Star," by its vigorous crusade against the political henchmen of Mr. Truman, earned the latter's enmity. The case was instituted by the Truman Administration. The Eisenhower Administration was unable to quash it, as the matter was already in the courts, and there would have been a cry of political influence in the opposite direction if the case had been dropped.

But it is obvious that a criminal trial before a jury in such a highly complicated and technical affair as an anti-trust charge can hardly resolve the issues for the guidance even of the defendant if convicted. For all a jury decides is whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty. It files no explanation or legal opinion.

There is also a civil suit pending against the "Kansas City Star" which has not yet been tried. Here a judicial opinion by a lower court and perhaps by the Supreme Court will be available for examination. There have been two somewhat similar cases heretofore—one against a newspaper in Lorain, Ohio, which lost the suit, and one against a newspaper at New Orleans, which won its case. Some basic issues have been raised in these cases, but they are not identical with the charges filed in the Kansas City cases.

What is involved fundamentally is the right of a newspaper to set a selling price of its own for the editions it sells to the subscriber. In Kansas City, the evening, the morning and the Sunday editions are regarded by the "Star's" ownership as a single newspaper, and the rate is so low that the combination price is a bargain compared to that of similar-sized newspapers in other cities.

Shall it be the law that a seller of services involving products of the mind, such as news gathering, cannot set his own fee for that sale? If he cannot, then is some government commission to fix the price, as it does electric light and power rates? If this is done, can it be said that the governmental body will not strive also to regulate either the quantity or the quality of the contents of a newspaper and the price to be charged?

Then there is the matter of advertising rates. The "Kansas City Star" considers it is selling a single product in its around-the-clock service each day and, for reasons of economy, feels it can serve the advertiser best at a relatively low rate that gives the advertiser coverage in all the editions each day rather than in any one edition. The right of a newspaper publisher to decide what he shall charge for one segment of a newspaper's content is as inviolate as the right of any seller of a patented article to do so.

But the issue raised here is whether, if the price is too low, it hurts a competitor, and whether it is then lawful to charge such a low price? Since when is a seller of goods to be penalized because he gives the public a lower price than a similar product is sold for in another city? Yet that's the charge made against the "Kansas City Star."

It has been alleged that the "Star" thus has defeated competition. But is it a crime to win out in a competitive battle, and must an inefficient competitor be kept in business and the prices of a subscription or an advertising page held high so that the competitor will not be injured? That's one way, to be sure, of controlling the press.

Now, no newspaper which also owns a radio or a television station has a right to penalize any prospective advertiser and compel him to use all his media or to give a discount to the users of all three. For this would be a tie-in of three separate businesses. While there were some instances of this in the early days, there are none known now, and, if any are discovered, they should be examined under the anti-trust laws.

The Department of Justice has sought in its civil suit to force the separation of the newspaper-publishing property in Kansas City from its television and radio station. This is supposed to be the job of the Federal Communications Commission, which can issue or revoke licenses if there's monopoly. It so happens that there are several competing radio and television stations in Kansas City and the "Star" pioneered when TV was introduced. Now there appears to be an effort to impose a penalty for the enterprise and foresight shown by the "Star."

The whole controversy will doubtless have to be finally settled in the Supreme Court of the United States, and it will be interesting to see how far the New Deal and Fair Deal philosophy is going to be accepted or rejected in what today appears as a palpable effort to rewrite the Constitution without the participation of the Congress or the people.

Questions—Answers

Q—How many annual messages must the President of the United States present to Congress?

A—Only three are mandatory. The State of the Union in compliance with the Constitution; the budget message under a law enacted in 1921; and the economic report as required by 1946 legislation.

Q—Why is pig iron given this name?

A—It is so called because the molten metal is run into a long mass with shorter pieces attached to it at right angles. The long pieces are called the sow, and the shorter are called the pigs.

Q—The home of what famous composer and bandmaster is to become a national shrine?

A—A movement is now under way to buy the home of John Philip Sousa, in Washington, D. C., as a memorial to the March King. The shrine will house a complete collection of Sousa memorabilia.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

This ought to learn me but it won't.

On Aug. 26, 1952, I presented to Vincent O'Connor, then a leading assistant to Frank Hogan, the district attorney of New York county, documentary information that George Scalise and Little Augie Carfano, alias Pisano, were running a big racket in "welfare" insurance for a liquor workers' union. Thereafter, from time to time, I phoned to ask how the investigation was going. I should have gone after the story myself as I did in the days when I was exposing the Capone mob's invasion of the building service workers and Hollywood and stage unions. But I had known O'Connor a long time; had admired his work on Joe Fay, whom I also helped to turn in, and trusted him absolutely. When Vince told me he would break the case in due course and promised to notify me exclusively, I did not doubt his word. I did observe little dribbles of news about this case but O'Connor said these reporters were just guessing. When the jackpot came up, it would be mine.

The liquor workers' union was another racket within my own purview. I turned it up five or six years ago. Ben Pross, a low thief with a roster of thieving relatives, specializing in bankruptcy frauds but scorning no other kind of larceny, was running this racket and, during the war, was shaking down our brave lads in southern army camps for $25 a bottle for over-quota booze. He blackmailed this booze out of Schenley by threatening to strike Schenley's plants and stores on the pretext that Schenley had thrown a lot of his subjects out of work by closing down a little gin plant.

Pross was the lowest of the low but he had a practice of giving testimonial dinners in his own honor and you would be surprised at the grandeur of the company. Tom Dewey's commissioner of labor, Ed Corsi, for instance, was one of the guests who did him honor, although Corsi certainly was in a position to know Benny's rodent character with all the facilities of the FBI and the state and city police at his command. But I guess he is just a trusting soul who loves his fellow-men.

I did get a little doubtful as more and more items appeared in other papers, bearing on this welfare racket of Scalise and Little Aug. But I stifled my doubts one time, when I was home in Arizona and O'Connor phoned me for help in a "contact" in Chicago. I gladly phoned Chicago and arranged for him to meet a source of important information.

Then I phoned O'Connor back in New York that everything was okay and he thanked me and said things would pop soon. I said maybe I ought to start a little mischief of my own. After all, I am a reporter. No! No! No! I could rely on Vince. I might scare the hen off the nest.

When Bob Wagner was running for mayor, Vince began to look to his future. His job in the D.A.'s office was comparatively minor and he was looking around. He wanted to be czar of the prizefight racket, which was very gamy and needed reform. Would I telephone the Madison Square Garden monopoly and recommend O'Connor? After all, he was the one who broke the basketball scandal and a very savvy, determined man of purest honor.

I certainly would and I did. I went down the line for him. However, the Garden monopoly was in no mood for a czar so nothing happened. Then Vince wanted to be police commissioner. George Monoghan, incumbent, a fine man, was a dead cock in the pit, being one of Impellitteri's appointees. So, although we were friends, I felt no qualms about making a plea for O'Connor. However, Wagner had reason to dislike me because I had told some pretty sorry truths about his father, the egregious faker who let his name go on the Wagner Act, written by the Communist, Lee Pressman. So I did it slaunchwise. I phoned a friend who was very hot for Wagner and sent in Vince O'Connor with him. He said he thought Vince would make a fine police commissioner. He promised to put in a plug. I understand he did.

But that also came to nothing and the next thing I knew, Vince was appearing in the cheesecake pictures, day after day, greeting dignitaries in from Europe, in the ceremonial role of commissioner of marine and aviation of the city of New York.

I had tried to get the State

Student Places 3rd in Contest

Louis DiStasi, Jr., Highland High School student who represented Ulster county, placed third in the American Legion Third District oratorical contest, according to information released today by John C. Miller, Ulster county oratorical chairman.

The District contest was held at Hudson High School on Friday. John Hewitt of Albany county was first place winner, and Eugene Seidel, Hudson county, placed second.

Each of the six district contestants had previously won local contests in their individual schools and had then won in the county contest in their home counties. Represented in the District contest were the counties of Albany, Columbia, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan and Ulster.

EACH CONTESTANT delivered a prepared oration on some phase or application on the Constitution of the United States, then spoke extemporaneously on a section selected at random from sealed envelopes.

Competition was especially keen among the first three place winners, with Hewitt receiving 424 points, Seidel, 407, and DiStasi, 404.

The contest was held during the afternoon at the Hudson High School auditorium. At the close of the contest, speakers, their sponsors and Legion representatives were guests of the Hudson Legion post for a "snack" at the high school home economics classroom.

THE FIRST AND SECOND place winners will represent the Third District in the Zone contest to be held in Malone on March 4.

Miss Madeleine Tarrant, public speaking instructor at Kingston High School, was one of the judges. Others were Arthur S. Halpen, attorney, of Hyde Park; Harold E. Blodgett, attorney, Schenectady; Dr. Phillip Allen Swartz, pastor of the Congregational Church in Poughkeepsie; and Harold Kirtland, teacher of speech, Poughkeepsie High School.

Representing the Ulster County American Legion were Thomas Bohan, past department vice commander, and John C. Miller, county Americanism and Oratorical chairman.

Lt. Miller Moves To Battery A

Lt. Raymond A. Miller, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Oscar Miller of Round Top, was recently transferred from Headquarters 27th Armored Division to Battery A of the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion in Kingston.

At Headquarters 27th Armored Division Lt. Miller served as aide to Maj. Gen. R. Brock, commanding general of the division.

Lt. Miller was born in New York city but spent most of his years residing with his parents at Round Top. A graduate of the Cairo Central School he married the former Elsie Lampman of Leeds. He is employed by the Hamm Buick Auto Sales Company of Catskill.

Lt. Miller received his initial commission after having graduated from the officer candidate school conducted by the New York National Guard, an opportunity afforded all National Guardsmen providing they have necessary qualifications.

Prior to becoming a commissioned officer, Lt. Miller served with the 134th Medical Battalion and was assigned to the ambulance company stationed in Catskill. It was from this position in the ambulance company that he qualified for attendance at the officer candidate school. Successful completion of this course of study provides an enlisted man with a commission as a second lieutenant in the New York National Guard not only with state recognition as an officer but also with federal recognition as officer in the armed forces of the United States and assignment to the local unit in the area in which the candidate resides. These courses are offered yearly and are conducted over a series of weekends so that there is the least amount of interference with business activities of the candidates concerned.

OUT, THEN IN—Maj.-Gen. William C. Chase, who heads the big U. S. Military Advisory Group on Formosa, must, by law, retire on Feb. 28. But he'll go right on training Chiang Kai-shek's armed forces. That's because he's done such a good job that Army Secy. Robert Stevens will exercise his right to immediately recall him to active duty. By retirement date, General Chase will have completed 35 years' service.

New Betsy Ross Flags

Cambridge, Mass. (AP)—Too many little red flags went up for Betsy Ross, Radcliffe College student and namesake of the woman credited with making America's first flag and Radcliffe's Betsy paid a $10 fine. The fine was imposed in District Court after police testified her car was parked 18 times beside parking meters where the little red flag showed overtime parking.

Although I have heard about the famous old Bevier House, headquarters of the Ulster County Historical Society, which is about seven miles from Kingston, I have never seen it. It is on the Old Mine road, or King's Highway as it was known in colonial times. According to the article in the Historical Society book of 1947-1953 issue by Myron S. Teller and Louis Bevier, this house dates back to before 1715 when the property was acquired by Louis Bevier, son of the old patentee of that name, from Peter Van Luven. (It also is spelled Van Leuven.) It is interesting to read Mr. Teller's description of the building as it was: "The original house was a small one room limestone cottage with a lean-to attached where much of the scullery work was done in those olden days." Mr. Teller also feels that this small limestone unit is still part of the house as it now stands. It is the room in the rear section of the house with the broad chimney and open fireplace, still equipped with wrought iron crane, pothooks and chain as in the old days, when no doubt there was always a good stew abrewing for the colonists who lived in the snug little home. No doubt additions were made to the original limestone unit by Peter Van Luven, and other owners until the building reached the size shown in the tax list of 1798.

"This was the house which, with the acreage surrounding it, was deeded by Peter Van Luven to Louis Bevier (born 1648, died 1753) son of the New Paltz patentee. It was recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on May 3, 1715. This goes to show you how well these records of Ulster county are kept so that searches can be made when necessary. It also is said that Peter Van Luven bought the land on which the house was built from the Indians, according to a statement in book by Katherine Bevier on page 65, called "The Bevier Family." Louis Bevier who bought the property, married Elizabeth Hasbrouck, daughter of Jean Hasbrouck, the New Paltz Patentee June 2, 1713. In 1715 they moved to their new home in Marbletown, and two years later, their only child, Louis Bevier (1717-1772) was born. It is interesting to read about the people who lived and died in the house. One occupant was David Bevier (1746-1822) who became town trustee, commissioner of highways, deacon of his church, member of the committee of safety, and in the Revolutionary War, member of the 3rd or Western Regiment of Ulster county under Col. Levi Pawling, which regiment was stationed in Hurley Oct. 19, 1777, three days after the burning of Kingston. No doubt his records or even personal records are now part of local history.

In 1778 David Bevier married Marie Hasbrouck, daughter of Col. Abraham Hasbrouck of Kingston. As David Bevier grew old he became very quiet and spent much of his time walking about the place accompanied always by two devoted companions, an old dog and a goose. Around 1800 the house was damaged by fire and David Bevier rebuilt the building almost exactly on the same site with most of the old masonry walls being used. That is why Mr. Teller called attention to the door and window frames of heavy oak mortised, tennoned and pinned together with wooden pegs, to the outer frames with small fan light above and a Dutch type mould overhanging the door outside, to the batten paneled doors of three wide boards. Must see the Bevier House one of these days.

Health Costs Cited

San Francisco (AP) — It costs less to keep the average man healthy than it does to maintain his automobile, says a Stanford University physician. It can be done, the doctor added, by having regular periodic health examinations — by getting a medical checkup every six months or so even when you are well. Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, Stanford chest physician, writing in the Bulletin of the National Tuberculosis Assn. says: "Maintenance of a man costs less than maintenance of an automobile. The cost of trading the serviceable old car for a new model is greater than the cost of a major illness. "The cost of maintaining a good sickness insurance policy is less than the cost of smoking a package of cigarettes daily. "Women spend more in beauty parlors than in doctor's offices. "Many families who spend hundreds of dollars annually on luxuries and vices are considered to be 'medically indigent.' Values and standards are distorted through ignorance and improvidence."

Solar Batteries

Solar batteries which convert sunlight directly into electricity may some day furnish enough power for household use, but there is no indication that they can be developed enough to provide power for vehicles, their sponsors say.

Delicious Avocado Pie Is a California Surprise

AVOCADO PIE is a California delight. One avocado will make a nine-inch pie.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

California cooks have a knack of inventing wonderful dishes out of foods that grow in their state. On our recent tour through California, we spent several days with Russ Simmons, who grows avocados and knows a lot about oranges, too.

He told us the current season brings the largest California avocado crop in history. Calavo Growers of California, of which he is a member, expects to market over 31/3 million flats (flat boxes) between now and June. Incidentally, the enthusiastic Mr. Simmons who enjoys eating this semitropical fruit as much as our family does, gave us a few pointers on how to buy them in the market.

Avocados are ready to eat only when soft. They are ripe when picked, but only the slow softening develops the creamy, nutlike flavor. To test for softness—hold in palms of hands and press gently. If the fruit "gives" readily (feels soft) it is ready to eat. If you pinch or poke, it will bruise the soft flesh and cause dark spots to appear.

If firm, leave these at room temperature until soft. This may take 2, 3 or 4 days. Do not refrigerate until soft. When soft they may be placed in the warmest part of refrigerator.

Mrs. Simmons gave us her recipe for an amazingly delicious pie made of avocados from her own trees.

Sea Foam Calavo Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch Pie)

One large avocado, 1 can sweetened condensed milk, 1 teaspoon grated lemon or lime rind, ½ cup lemon or lime juice, 2 egg yolks, few grains salt, 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, avocado for garnish.

To prepare avocado, cut into halves and remove seed and skin. Force fruit through sieve to make 1 cup pulp. Combine condensed milk, lemon rind and juice, lightly beaten egg yolks and salt and stir until mixture thickens. Fold in avocado. Turn into baked pastry shell and chill several hours. Garnish with balls cut from avocado with French ball cutter or ½ teaspoon measure, if desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Frozen fish sticks with lobster sauce, whipped potatoes, spinach timbales, soft rolls, green salad, sea foam Calavo pie, coffee, tea, milk.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Prime ribs of beef, legs of lamb and fryers will be among the more popular weekend features in food stores across the nation this weekend.

And for Lent, stores will offer a wide variety of seafood, including haddock fillets, flounder fillets, swordfish steaks, smelts and shrimp. Frozen food men are looking for a brisk business, particularly in shrimp and fish sticks.

PRIME RIB PRICES will show a wide range. In some stores prices will be the same as a week ago while in others reductions of as much as 18 cents a pound will be posted.

Other beef items mentioned as specials by a number of markets include chuck roast, pot roast, sirloin steaks and hamburger. The lower prices reflect a slight decline in wholesale beef quotations.

Wholesale lamb prices are a bit lower this week and legs of lamb will be widely featured for Sunday dinner. There also will be scattered specials on lamb chops.

NOT MANY STORES will feature pork this weekend. In fact, one major chain plans increases of four to six cents a pound on center cut pork chops. There will be occasional specials on smoked ham.

Frying chicken prices are higher than they were a few months ago. But you should find good value where stores are featuring fryers.

Egg prices will be higher in some markets this weekend. They've risen considerable since Christmas and the prediction is that they will go higher still as the year progresses. Laying flocks have been cut back.

POTATOES, ONIONS and rutabagas are rated the top buys in vegetables. Produce men put a "good buy" label on carrots (bunched or topped), cabbage, iceberg lettuce, beets with or without tops, escarole, rhubarb, small and medium-size peppers, greens and spinach.

Cucumbers, cauliflower and eggplants are up a bit at wholesale this week. There's a wide range of price and quality in green beans. The best tomatoes are higher.

Oranges and grapefruit prices are up, too, but these fruits still are regarded as good buys. Produce specialists also recommend apples. The condition of tangerines is described as irregular.

Bills in Legislature

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Republican and Democratic legislators have proposed two more approaches to slum clearance. Private enterprise would play the main role in one, the state in the other.

The programs are embodied in bills now before the Legislature.

The measures were filed Tuesday, the last day for general introduction of bills, but were not processed until late yesterday.

An avalanche of proposed legislation on deadline day brought the Senate and Assembly total for the session to 6,447, a new record for general introduction of bills. The previous mark — 6,314—was set in 1953.

BILLS NOW MAY BE introduced only with the consent of the Rules Committee.

Sen. John H. Cooke of Alden and Assemblyman J. Eugene Goddard of Monroe county, both Republicans, offered bills that they characterized as "the free enterprise answer to slum clearance."

The measures would permit cities, towns and villages to set up local housing authorities, backed by private capital, to build new homes and rehabilitate blighted areas.

Democratic Assemblyman Alfred A. Lama of Brooklyn filed a bill that would establish a five-member State Housing Administration empowered to insure loans for repair of multiple dwellings.

OTHER MEASURES submitted by Lama would grant tax exemptions to owners of multiple dwellings for improvements to eliminate fire hazards and to correct other substandard conditions.

The local housing authorities proposed by Cooke and Goddard would be distinct from public housing agencies.

The dwellings the authorities built would have to be sold to private business within three years after construction. The authorities would be taxed on the real property they owned. They would be ineligible to construct housing with state aid.

The Cooke-Goddard bills would permit localities also to set up neighborhood conservation authorities, which would have power to issue bonds for projects to clear and rehabilitate slum areas.

Two Democratic Senators sponsored bills affecting state employes.

Sen. John F. Furey of Brooklyn would authorize the state to contract with a non-profit corporation for group medical and surgical insurance of state workers who belong to employe organizations. He proposed also that the state provide group life insurance.

Sen. John J. Donovan Jr. of the Bronx asked an allowance of up to $150 for moving expenses of state employes transferred to new jobs.

As Pegler Sees It

Liquor Authority to take an interest in this Scalise-Carfano welfare racket but found the boys otherwise occupied. Joe Kaitz, a fine investigator, was on loan to the State Crime Commission and busily turning up Bill McCormick, the Mr. Big of the water front. We worked on that, to the end that the $80,000 shakedown of Tex Rickard in the Dempsey-Firpo fight promotion, a quarter century ago, was confirmed by Frank McQuade, a part-owner of the Giants at that time. The Giants were host to the big fight and McQuade, though sick and old, went downtown and testified on oath that McCormick did shake Tex, as Al Smith told me fifteen years ago.

Still, I never got any word from Vince O'Connor on Scalise and Augie.

Now, I see that they have been indicted. The plot was exactly as I imparted it to O'Connor in 1952.

A few months ago, a friend of Scalise asked me to take it easy. After all, Georgie did seven years for extortion in New York prisons and three years for income tax fraud after my earlier inquiry, the time he wailed that he was being "Peglarized." And, actually, this new proposition was just an honorable effort by his old colleagues to recompense him for his hard luck in that case.

Well, nobody can say I bore down on Georgie this time. But I can't claim credit for altruism. I just relied too much on Vincent O'Connor.

Farms for Marriage

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Orpha Chandler Moore, 88, who has been married to William Moore, 92, for 70 years says the trouble nowadays is that husband and wife don't see enough of each other. She advocates a back-to-the-soil movement. "The happiest married life is where a man and his wife can farm together, where their interests are the same," she says. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have spent 50 of their married years on a farm.

GOOD NEWS IN THE WANT ADS — CALL 5000

USAF Boss In Touchy Far East

Washington — (NEA) — If a chest full of decorations measures a man, the Pentagon has nothing to fear for the caliber of leadership at the helm of America's Air Force in the troubled Far East.

Four-star General Earle E. Partridge, Commander Far East Air Forces, sports a near-record collection of 24 awards for valor, decorations, medals, stars, oak leafs, citations and foreign honors on his chest.

Partridge's insistence on combining combat flying with staff work accounts for his most prized awards. In the spring of 1943 he was chief of staff of the 12th Bomber Command which was part of the Northwest African Air Force, a job which would normally keep a man on the ground.

Not so Partridge. During six months he flew innumerable combat missions over Tunisia, Sicily, Sardina and Italy. Not content with that he volunteered for an extended series of flights with a night bombing outfit of the British Royal Air Force to better coordinate U. S. Air Force daylight bombing operations with them.

During the Korean War Partridge commanded the Fifth Air Force. Without the top brass in Tokyo knowing about it he flew scores of missions deep over enemy territory to gain first-hand combat knowledge.

When Partridge took over his present job last spring he found the Tokyo command a little too relaxed. His first Saturday as boss he pulled a surprise command inspection, rolling out everyone from brigadier generals on down for a pep-talk. A lot of golf dates had to be cancelled in a hurry.

Johnston Opposes Harlan for Post

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D.-S.C.) said today he opposes John Marshall Harlan's appointment to the Supreme Court because he fears the jurist would put the United Nations charter above the U. S. Constitution.

This view was disputed by Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) another Judiciary Committee member, Sen. Daniel (D.-Tex.), said he intends to question Harlan on whether he favors partial surrender of national sovereignty to international organizations.

"Rather serious charges have been made against Judge Harlan, but whether there is any merit in them I don't know," Daniel said.

Kefauver said that he knows of no substantial evidence against Harlan and intends to vote for his confirmation.

AS IT PREPARED to start closed-door hearings (10 a. m.) on Harlan's nomination, the Judiciary Committee said about 14 witnesses have asked to be heard—some in favor and others in opposition to confirmation.

Harlan, a judge of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in New York, was named last Nov. 9 to fill the Supreme Court vacancy left by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson.

An aide of Sen. Kilgore (D.-W. Va.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said testimony was being taken behind closed doors to find out how much substance there is to the protests that have been received.

Kilgore has predicted the Senate will confirm Harlan.

Hearings had been slated to get underway yesterday but were postponed until today. Harlan was present, at the committee's invitation.

28,565 Bucks Killed

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP) — Deer hunters killed a record 28,565 bucks in New York state last year, Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle reported today. In addition, 1,963 anterless deer were taken for a total reported kill of 30,528. The taking of does was permitted only by archers except in two experimental Adirondack wilderness areas.

Child Ties Into Job

Englewood, N. J., (AP)—In 1953, Barbara (Bambi) Constantine, 9, made her daddy, Dr. Frank Constantine, a bow tie out of felt, an assortment of beads, and rhinestones. Just as a gag, he wore it to a cocktail party. Friends liked it and told others who passed the word. Today Bambi bow ties are sold in Princeton, New York and Palm Beach. The little blonde girl has earned enough to buy a television set and is pricing pianos. Bambi makes a creation a day. A woman helps her stitch them and Bambi is looking around for a high school girl as a second assistant.

Retired Stay Home

Detroit (AP)—A survey by the Metropolitan Committee on Aging covering 13,800 persons who have retired on pensions showed. 9,712 remained in Detroit; 3,066 moved to smaller Michigan communities; 1,042 left the state, and of these, 328 went to Florida, 182 to California and smaller numbers moved to other states or foreign countries.

Would Stage Burlesque With Girls in Clothes

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—City License Commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey struggled today with the problem of whether he should take a chance and issue a permit for burlesque with clothes.

McCaffrey had all kinds of promises—that the new version of burlesque would be "decorous," that the girls would be modest, that the shows would be an "asset to the community," etc., etc.

Presiding in a jammed hearing room, McCaffrey llistened for two hours yesterday to emotional pleas for restoration of the art which has been banned here since 1942.

He then reserved decision on an application by Thomas J. Phillips, executive director of the Burlesque Artist Assn., who wants to produce burlesque shows at the Orpheum Theatre in Brooklyn.

"What will the minimum clothing requirements be?" McCaffrey asked.

"The entire production will be decorous," replied the 67-year-old applicant. "The girls will wear more than the rockettes. Never will any portions of their bodies be exposed."

"And not a bit of stripping?" the commissioner wanted to know.

"On my word, sir," Phillips replied, adding that his production would "be an asset to our community in every shape and form, particularly to our youth."

Burlesque—with plenty of exposed flesh, bumps and grinds and salty jokes—is flourishing at some spots in northern New Jersey and the interstate buses carry heavy loads of New Yorkers across the Hudson river to see the sights.

Almost any high-school kid can manage to drive the family car into the garage on the last drop of gas.

On Pink Elephant

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—If you attend the charity premiere here of the circus you'll see Marilyn Monroe riding on a pink elephant. Showman Mike Todd announced yesterday that Miss Monroe will be the main attraction opening night performance March 30 of the Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Bros. Circus at Madison Square Garden—on behalf of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. Todd said Miss Monroe will wear a leotard (a form-fitting theatrical costume) while the elephant will be "pinked up" for the event.

Safe-Cracking Attempt Fails

An attempt at safe-cracking following a break-in at Old Capital Motors Inc., 300 Broadway failed during the night, but police reported the theft of tools valued at $250 and unknown amounts of money taken from cigarette and candy machines.

Entrance was gained through the breaking of a rear window, police said. A large safe was removed from the office to the shop section of the building. It bore signs of unsuccessful attempts to open it.

THE PRIVATE CHEST or tool closet of one employe was broken into, but only a screwdriver and hammer was taken from it, police said. The bigger theft of tools was from the cabinet of Carmine Immediato, of RD, Kingston.

The person or persons who entered the building left through a rear door and took a lock with them, police said.

A theft of tools from an automobile was reported several days ago, and those taken then were found later in a car which had been stolen and later recovered in the city.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons investigated.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—House Democratic leaders today appeared to have the votes to pass a $20-a-person income tax cut. The showdown may come late today or tomorrow.

But the issue was cutting across party lines. Seven Virginia Democrats issued a statement of opposition.

Republican leaders, seeking solid party support for President Eisenhower's stand opposing action now to cut taxes, called a morning conference of all GOP members.

But Minority Leader Martin (R.-Mass.) conceded afterward that "two or three" Republicans at the conference held fast for the tax cut. And about 40 GOP members failed to show up for the caucus—perhaps an even more ominous sign for the Republicans.

Charge Is Made

Armonk, Feb. 24 (AP)—A speech scheduled for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at a public schol here has resulted in a charge that it would constitute illegal use of a school for political purposes. The speech was set for March 4 at the Whippoorwill public school as part of a Democratic rally, and the subject is "The importance of political activity in the home town." Paul Lehr, Republican councilman, lodged the protest with the board of education. Bruce Felknor, secretary of the Democratic organization, agreed, and the Democrats now are seeking other facilities large enough to accommodate an audience.

Three Are Arrested

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—Three men were arrested early today and accused of receiving $15,000 in stolen gems, part of the loot from a $50,000 Boston robbery. In custody were Harry Rosenberg, 55-year-old Brooklyn jeweler; Lawrence Goldman, 49, also of Brooklyn, and Florio Isabella, 43, of Manhattan. Police said Goldman and Isabella brought the jewels here from Boston on Feb. 4 and sold them to Rosenberg, who maintains offices at 68 Bowery in the Jewelers' Exchange.

United Artists announced today formation of the Hayworth-Haymes firm, Crystal Bay Productions, and said its first two movies will be released through UA facilities. What they will be hasn't been decided. Miss Hayworth has to make two more shows under her contract with Columbia Pictures before setting up her own shop.

Steps Into Controversy

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP) — Gov. Harriman today stepped into the strike-threatening controversy over the new dock-hiring rules set forth by the waterfront commission for New York harbor. Harriman's counsel, Daniel A. Gutman, scheduled a conference here this afternoon with Samuel M. Lane, executive director of the commission, and Fred R. Field, secretary-treasurer of Local 856, International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.).

Bottle Is Tossed Through Window

Mrs. Clayton R. Smith, of 70 Elmendorf street, said today that she narrow escaped being struck by a bottle tossed through a front window of her home early this morning.

Police were notified by Mrs. Smith at 2:35 a. m., that occupants of a car in front of her house were creating a disturbance. Shortly after telephoning the complaint, she called police headquarters again to report the bottle-throwing incident.

MRS. SMITH SAID a neighbor told her that there appeared to have been four men in a tan car in front of the house, talking loudly and drinking beer. Besides the beer bottle thrown through the window, others were found this morning near where the car had been parked.

"Glass was flying all around," Mrs. Smith said, as the bottle crashed through a storm window and the other one on the inside. She had just finished notifying police of the disturbance when the bottle was tossed. The disturbance, before and after the bottle throwing, she indicated, had awakened others in the neighborhood.

Planned Parent Group Is Seeking $5,000 for Year

The Ulster County Committee for Planned Parenthood is seeking $5,000 this year, according to Mrs. William Schiff, chairman, who said the amount is needed to operate the maternal health center at 578 Broadway.

Mrs. Schiff added, "Our budget represents the minimum required to continue the local program and expand the organization's usefulness in Ulster county."

CO-CHAIRMEN of the fund are Mrs. A. B. Shufeldt and Mrs. Charles Forst, and the local campaign is part of a nationwide effort during February on the part of 100 branches, operating 135 centers throughout the nation.

Mrs. Shufeldt supervises volunteer workers at the local center, which has been in operation since 1939. A doctor and nurse are in attendance on Thursdays, when the center is open to mothers and children from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED by Mrs. Shufeldt that each new patient receives a cancer smear test and it is repeated once a year. In addition, there is a psysical examination. She added, "The aim of the center is: Healthier mothers and healthier babies through child spacing, and to give help to childless couples."

The national organization is affiliated with the National Health Council and the National Conference of Social Work; endorsed by state welfare programs, the Division of Industrial Hygiene of the U. S. Public Health Service; is a member of the Welfare and Health Council of New York city and of similar councils of social agencies in 62 American cities.

MRS. SHUFELDT stressed that the organization has the support of Protestant and Jewish clergymen, the medical profession and civic and industrial leaders. The Planned Parenthood motto is, she said, Every Child a Wanted Child.

Paralyzed Painter

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP) — Warren Van Ess, 19, is completely paralyzed in both arms and legs from polio. But his paintings are gaining attention from critics and art patrons. He holds his brush in his teeth. Since last summer he has completed four water colors and plans to try oils. All of his works, instructors say, exceed standards of painters with normal use of hands and are especially noteworthy because of their fine detail.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—The stock market eased quietly today but most declines in the early afternoon were fractions.

There was some scattered demand for medium and low priced issues. But all major sections of the market — steels, motors, oils, utilities and railroads — favored the minus column.

The market opened higher but most stocks inched downward.

The bank of England raised its bank discount rate for the second time within a month. This time a full percentage point from 3½ to 4½ per cent. The action unsettled the London stock market and most U. S. brokerage houses attributed the "big board" decline to a sympathetic movement.

Pope Blesses Throng

Vatican City, Feb. 24 (AP)—Pope Pius XII appeared at his Vatican Apartment window today to bless 2,000 persons who cheered him in St. Peter's Square. They included tourists and pilgrims from a half dozen countries. It was the second time since his illness in December that the Pontiff made such an appearance. His first was nine days ago. The Pontiff has not yet renewed general audiences for pilgrims. He has been advised not to undertake this added task yet. He has resumed audiences with Cardinal members of the Vatican Curia, and now receives one of them every other day.

Police Seek Hit-Run Driver

Police were seeking a reported hit-and-run driver today after a car had allegedly struck a boy at No. 5 School at about 8:30 a. m.

Vernon James Halwick, Jr., 8, of 79 Lincoln street, reported being struck and injured on the right leg while playing on the school basketball court. Vehicles are able to drive in and out of the school yard, and the one involved in the mishap apparently was leaving the yard at the time.

Police said they were told that the car was a green and white sedan. Officers Leonard Ellsworth and George Dougherty investigated. They said the boy was to be treated by a doctor.

"Facts and figures that we have indicate there is a good chance" of avoiding corporation tax increases, Carlino told a reporter.

A HIGHLY PLACED GOP legislative source saw "a fair possibility" that the governor's $1,345,200,000 spending program could be slashed by enough to rule out his corporation tax proposals.

And GOP leaders said in a joint statement that Harriman's withdrawal of proposed motor fuel tax increases raised the question of "to what extent his other tax increase proposals are necessary."

The Democratic governor yesterday dropped his demands for a two-cent-a-gallon gasoline-tax increase and a boost of three cents a gallon in the diesel-fuel levy, effective April 1.

Walter J. Mahoney, majority leader of the Senate, and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck said in a joint statement that the move amounted to "complete surrender" to Republican objections.

Nine Are Killed

ter H. Polk, Knoxville, Tenn., parachuted to safety.

THE WRECKAGE burned for more than two hours. The flames could be seen at the Sedalia base, 11 miles away.

Paul Gregory, a farmer who lives near the scene, said one of the survivors told him the fire first appeared in the tail of the craft and that pressure made it difficult to open the doors to jump.

"They said they had parachuted from the plane at an altitude of less than 75 feet," Gregory said. "One of them said he landed on his head and the other said he landed on his feet."

The tanker, known as a KC97, resembles a Boeing Stratocruiser. It was a part of the 340th Refueling Wing stationed at the Sedalia base.

Two Jets Collide

Tokyo, Feb. 24 (AP) — Two American Air Force Sabre jets collided over Hokkaido Island today and one pilot is missing, the air force announced. One pilot parachuted to safety. Rescuse planes searched the area for the other. Their names were withheld.

Eddyville Pushes

State Department in which it expresses its deep concern over the condition of the structure, which members feel is not only inadequate to handle increased traffic but is unsafe to handle present day heavy vehicles. It has been suggested that cars following a bus or truck over the structure wait until a heavy vehicle has cleared the span before proceeding over it.

In the letter to the State Department of Public Works, President Grady calls attention to use of the bridge by school conveyances and of the unsafe condition of the structure for use by heavy vehicles. He says the association will take every available step to have the condition eliminated and that the group intends shortly to have photographs taken of the "deteriorated conditions of the supporting piers that are subject to loads far in excess of the standards of safety." It is claimed temporary repairs to the bridge would only be a waste of the taxpayers' money.

Quoting a portion of the letter sent to the Public Works Department, President Grady wrote:

"In your letter of March 17th, you stated, "We appreciate your anxiety over this situation and can assure you that your comments will assist in focusing the need for the reconstruction of this bridge."

"Our anxiety has greatly increased. Perhaps it would be to your advantage, and to ours, if you would personally take the time to look over the Eddyville Bridge in order to assure yourself that our claims are not exaggerated.

"You also stated in your letter that the Temporary Highway Finance Planning Commission, appointed by Governor Dewey, has submitted a report to the Legislature recommending a bond issue of five hundred or seven hundred fifty million to be financed with an increase in the gasoline tax so that funds would be made available for the reconstruction of this bridge and other much needed projects in New York state.

"It should not be necessary to wait for an approval of a bond issue by the people of this state in order to appropriate funds for the construction of this bridge. It is our belief that imperative action should be taken at once with the funds that have already been allocated for emergency reconstruction purposes. Particularly where a matter of public safety is involved. I am sure that you are well aware that "Time Reaps its Havoc."

"We would appreciate definite action in the near future. Please keep us informed as to your final decision on this matter so that we may pass on this information to our membership at our next meeting."

DULLES WILL VISIT Rangoon, capital of neutralist Burma, on Saturday. He will look in on troubled Laos Sunday and visit Cambodia and South Vietnam Monday, then will fly to the Philippines for a conference of American Far Eastern ambassadors at Baguio Tuesday.

His itinerary beyond the Philippines has not been made public but there are strong indications that he may visit Formosa.

In the closed meeting yesterday Dulles mentioned new weapons available for southeast Asia defense and ticked off these components of the American force he said could strike anywhere in the Pacific:

A fleet of 400 warships including carriers and 300,000 men. Five divisions of 350,000 men.

Thirty squadrons of air force jet bombers and interceptors plus other strategic forces.

He argued against breaking up this powerful force and assigning parts of it to Manila Pact Nations. He urged instead that it be kept intact, able to strike anywhere needed and that the separate nations add their strength to that of the U. S. Pacific force.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tourney Provides Great Examples

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

The contest for the Vanderbilt Cup is scheduled to come to an end late this week, which reminds me of one of the hands played in last year's championship. The hand came along in one of the early rounds, and it gave Eli Jaye, one of New York's best-known experts, the chance to commit what many players consider to be the worst possible sin at the bridge table. He trumped his partner's ace.

Eli opened his singleton diamond against the perfectly normal contract of four hearts. Declarer played the jack from dummy, and East won with the queen. South dropped the seven of diamonds in the hope of confusing East on the whereabouts of the four and deuce.

East couldn't think of anything better than continuing with the ace of diamonds. And Jaye couldn't resist trumping his partner's ace.

As you might expect, from the fact that the play was made by an expert, it wasn't a sin at all. West could now lead a club through dummy, and East was able to set the contract with two club tricks.

If West had failed to trump the ace of diamonds, East would have been left with the lead. He would be able to take one club trick, but no more. What's more, he wouldn't even get that if he failed to take it at once. South could easily draw trumps, cash the top spades, and get to dummy in order to discard clubs on the queen and jack of spades.

If East had known that the opening lead was a singleton, he would have returned a low diamond at the second trick in order to force West to ruff. Because of declarer's false-card, East thought that his partner had led from a doubleton diamond; and he therefore led the ace of diamonds at the second trick.

He knew, however, that he could rely on Jaye to come through with the right sinful play if he really had no more diamonds.

Alaskan Defenses—3

(Editor's note—The shortest distance between the United States and Russia lies across the Diomede Islands. This third of a four-part series on Alaskan defenses tells of the men who live on little Diomede and the telescope vigil they maintain on their Russian neighbors).

BY ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press
Military Affairs Writer

Fort Richardson, Alaska, Feb. 24 (AP)—On the farest out corner of America, U. S. soldiers keep watch on what goes on in Russia.

The men are members of a little known but highly valued organization—the Eskimo Scouts of the Alaskan National Guard.

The place is the Diomede Island group astride the border between this country and the Soviet Union—Little Diomede in the United States, Big Diomede across a few miles of water in Siberia.

Little Diomede Island is the closest port to Red territory. But the area in which the scouts live and work stretches for almost 5,000 miles along the bleak, rocky coastline and islands facing out over sullen seas and ice toward Siberia.

THE ESKIMO SCOUTS (actually some of them are Indians) are probably the only members of a reserve type organization who are always on active duty without being called up or inducted into federal service. What they do in their daily work—hunting, fishing, trapping—fits perfectly the mission they would have if on constant government duty.

If there is a stranger in their land, they are almost certain to know about it. Perhaps they see him. Or perhaps there are only telltale signs—footprints, marks on a beach where a boat has landed, or the attitude of nervous game, whose eyes and ears are even more sensitive than those of an Eskimo.

For generations, the Eskimo has lived by his skill at stalking food and fur animals. He has a natural and amazing skill in the art of camouflage, of moving fast, shooting accurately.

THE U. S. ARMY has no illusions about using the Eskimo scout as a combat infantryman in a regular unit. He is neither armed nor temperamentally equipped for it. His great value to the army is for patrol and, in some degree, guerrilla action. The scouts serve as a reconnaissance screen at the outermost perimeter of the defenses.

For years, the scouts were armed with obsolete Enfield and Springfield rifles, hand-me-downs from World War 1. Only now are they being equipped with modern M-1 rifles. When the scout leaves his village for a hunting trip along the coast, he carries two guns—his own game rifle and his military weapon.

THE SCOUT KEEPS sharp watch not only afield but at home. On Little Diomede, American Eskimos could give an almost hour-by-hour report on the movement of their neighbors on Big Diomede, whom they watch by telescope.

On St. Lawrence Island, 150 miles to the south, the same vigilance is maintained, 24 hours a day, toward the approaches over ice or by water.

Scouts say there isn't much migration or travel between Soviet and American territory now. They do not say there is none. A few years ago fishing and hunting parties of Eskimos often crossed the boundary.

ALASKA'S ESKIMOS had other visitors from Asia 15 years ago. In 1940, they reported to the territorial government that a Japanese survey party had landed at one point, looked over the country and people and left. This was more than a year before Japan declared war and succeeded in gaining a foothold in the Aleutian chain.

The Eskimo reconnaissance force is organized into two battalions, one with headquarters at Nome, the other at Bethel. Organically, they have two missions: A territorial militia for home defense; members of the national guard which is a civilian component of the army.

Although the Eskimo knows far more about the science of scouting and patrol in the Arctic and subarctic than white members of a military organization, he must be trained to adapt his knowledge to the requirements and operational techniques of a regular military force.

Therefore, the army operates at Ft. Richardson a three-week course at a noncommissioned officers school and a two-week course in radio. Here the scouts NCOs learn to look for the specific intelligence and military needs and the forms of reporting information.

Agent Is Given Magazine Story

Louise Fatum, a commission agent who runs Mountain View Coach Terminal, Saugerties, is the subject of a feature in the current issue of Bus Transportation, trade publication of the bus industry.

The publication describes her as "a remarkable woman who lives, eats and breathes the bus business" and "has confounded the experts and the trends by actually increasing bus riding out of Saugerties. In 1954 her revenues were up 30 per cent over 1953 for the three lines she handles—Greyhound, Mountain View and Adirondack Transit."

The article points out there is "no normal reason" why Saugerties should show this increase. "The only explanation for the revenue hike is Louise Fatum herself . . . and the things she does to promote bus riding in her territory."

Dangerous Walking

Wilton, N. H. (AP)—The car driven by Mrs. Charles S. Gleim, 66, skidded out of control on ice, struck an embankment and overturned. With minor cuts on her left arm, she started to walk home, slipped on the ice, broke her leg.

Try, Try Again

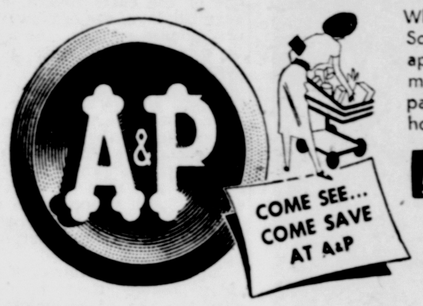

Wake Forest, N. C. (AP)—Fred F. Marshall paid his fine and costs of $24.85 for speeding and resumed his journey. Thirty minutes later he was stopped by the same patrolman for doing the same 70 miles an hour. Marshall paid $24.85 more, explaining he'd gotten confused in directions after the first arrest and was just hurrying to get back on the right road.

LOOKING FOR A HOME—This bronze statue, called "Groping Boy," was returned to a New York art dealer because citizens of Bristol, Va., called it "idiotic, ridiculous and a monstrosity." The figure, which shows a boy helping a fawn from a stream, was originally purchased for the yard of a new Bristol school. The people paid $2600 for the sculpture by Italian artist Pericle Fazzani

Troop 10 Holds Celebration for Charter Night

The winning of all awards in the Kingston District for re-registration of the unit and the celebration of charter night were the highlights of the week for Boy Scout Troop 10, sponsored by the Ulster Hose Company on Albany avenue extension.

Attainments of top honors in the district came Monday evening at the monthly roundtable when Scoutmaster Louis Every accepted awards from Scout Executive George V. Dennis. All members of Troop 10 are now privileged to wear the Liberty Bell tie-slide, signifying their achievements during the past year.

FURTHER AWARDS to Troop 10 included the National Conservation Award, a ribbon for participation in the window display event during Scout Week, and a ribbon for meeting the goal set by the local Council for troop advancements.

At the Tuesday evening charter night, assistant Scoutmaster Jack Kelly presented the members of the fire company-sponsored troop with their membership cards. Merit badges were presented to Scouts John Kelly and Frank White. The Troop Patrols participated in various events and were awarded ribbons for first and second places.

OTHER FEATURES of the charter night event included an explanation of troop finances by Scoutmaster Louis Every, and the projection of slides of Camp Tri-Mount followed by a planning session for attendance af troop members at the Boy Scout camp this summer. Colored slides of Troop 10 activities were also shown to the parents, and refreshments brought the evening's program to a close.

Production Set

Orangeburg, S. C. (AP)—A poultry production took precedence over a Town Players' production here this year. The players found a setting hen nesting on scenery stored under a house. The cast sat it out until the hen decided not to sit on the set.

Impartial Justice

Baltimore (AP)—Judge John B. Gontrum cautioned members of the grand jury to be completely impartial. To illustrate, the judge recalled an incident when, as a young lawyer, he rested a case. The presiding judge said he would give the verdict the next day "because I'll have to talk in over first with Ma and the girls."

Burglars Use Mail

Chicago (AP)—Harold Hartzlett paid the postage on a package containing 13 $25 savings bonds and some insurance policies stolen from his apartment. The burglars who took them kept $250 cash, a silverware set and an alarm clock valued at $120.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

No boondoggle cooked up by the New Deal was more completely discredited than the proposal to harness the tides at Passamaquoddy Bay on the coast of Maine.

But here it is again under Republican auspices — in President's Eisenhower's message. "Ike" has asked Congress for one million bucks "for a survey to determine whether hydroelectric power can be economically developed" from this old barnacle of the sea.

Mr. Hutton

This survey was made years ago. Even a New Deal Congress refused the funds to go ahead with it. Passamaquoddy is at the northeast corner of Maine, on the Canadian boundary: it is in very sparsely settled country, and a long way from large cities or big users of electricity.

Nineteen years ago Congress was convinced that it would be far cheaper to ship coal all the way from Norfolk, Virginia, to this jumping-off place and develop electrical energy in a steam generating plant than to spend uncounted millions to harness the twice-a-day tides.

With thousands of soft coal miners out of work, or on short rations, and the hard coal industry flat on its back, it is certain that "Ike" doesn't have to unbalance his budget with this boondoggle. If it were practical, our electric industry would have harnessed Quoddy long ago.

This is pure pork barrel stuff, neigbor! The fact that Mrs. Senator Margaret Chase Smith may fry some political fat out of this pork, is no reason why we should furnish the fat.

Wrong Traffic Control

Pittsfield, Mass. (AP)—A pedestrian, blocked several times by heavy traffic in his effort to cross a street, finally smashed a car window, a police report says. The crash halted traffic. When police caught up with the man, who was completely sober, he admitted guilt and promised to pay for the window.

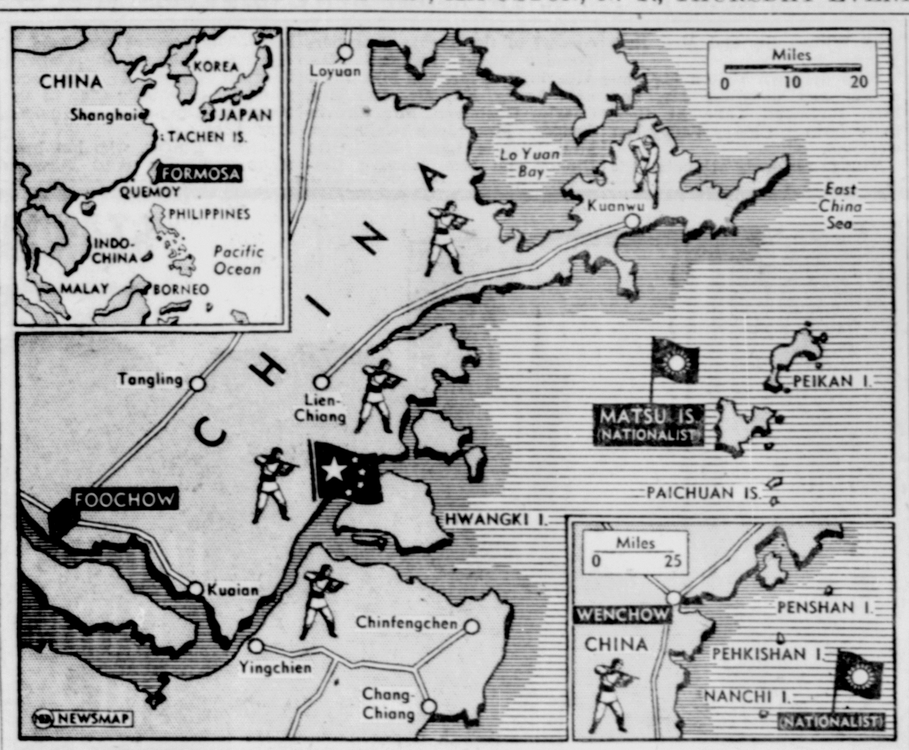

Two Hurley Youths Enlist in Air Force

Two Hurley youths recently enlisted in the U. S. Air Force, it was announced today by T/Sgt John J. Norton, Jr., station commander of the Air Force Recruiting Station at his new office, 259 Fair street.

They are Richard F. Hotaling, son of Howard Hotaling, and Robert T. Read, son of Mrs. Helene Read. Prior to his enlistment, Airman Hotaling was employed at Mays Store, O'Neil street. He is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of '53. Airman Read is a former student of KHS and was a member of Service Battery of the 156th Armed Field Artillery Battalion, the local National Guard Unit. Both men were flown to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas, where they are now undergoing basic training.

Rescues the Cash

Chicago (AP)—Flames raging in a laundry almost destroyed by fire could not stop Conrad Nordis as he fought his way to retrieve his spare pants. There was $100 in the pockets.

REDS EYE MORE CHINESE ISLES—Large map and insets show the strategic coastal islands held by Nationalists and threatened with invasion by Communist forces from the mainland. Having gobbled up the Tachens (upper inset) by default, the Reds now eye Nanchi (lower inset) 120 miles to the south. Only about three miles square it is strategically important because it is now the nearest radar outpost to the huge Communist air center around Shanghai. It lies 15 miles off the mainland. Also ripe for attack is Matsu, just off the big Communist staging area centered on Foochow. Reds are rushing new jet air bases in the Foochow area from which Nanchi and Matsu could be bombed. Nationalists have about 6000 troops on Matsu. The 3000-man garrison on Nanchi has recently been reinforced with troops evacuated from the Tachens. Reds are reported to have deployed 50,000 men opposite Quemoy, Matsu and Nanchi, augmenting this force with heavy guns capable of bombarding Quemoy.

Heart Fund Drive At 51 Per Cent of UlsterCountyGoal

The 1955 Heart Fund has reached $4,163.35 or 51 per cent of the $8,000 needed for the current heart program, according to an announcement today by S. James Matthews, heart fund chairman for Ulster county.

The drive will continue through February. Its objective is to raise funds with which to combat diseases of the heart and circulation through research, education and community service.

"Hope is the keynote and foundation of the heart movement," said Matthews. "And just as we are hopeful that medical science will ultimately bring the heart diseases under control, we also have very reason to be hopeful that the local campaign will quickly attain its goal.

"The people of this community have always responded generously to important appeals, and the Heart Fund is certainly among the most vital causes since it concerns the welfare of every citizen's heart."

He pointed out that many volunteers workers have yet to report and a number of anticipated major contributions are yet to come in.

The campaign is sponsored by the Ulster Heart Chapter, an affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Lt. Andrew Summers Rowan carried the famous message to Garcia, Cuban revolutionist, during the Spanish-American War.

Tiny Motor

One tiny motor used by the U. S. armed forces contains almost a mile of wire and yet is smaller in diameter than a half dollar and shorter than a cigarette.

Personal Address

Fayetteville, N. C. (AP)—Mayor George Herndon was addressing a group of auxiliary policemen on "Law Enforcement" when a messenger interrupted to advise that an armed bandit had robbed the mayor's music store of $40. With even greater earnestness the mayor continued his address on "Law Enforcement."

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: If you've got a beautiful voice and beautiful technique, stay out of the recording field. That's the strange advice from young Larry Grayson, whose first recording is "Because I Love You" on the new AA label.

"If you're technically too perfect, your records won't sell," Larry says. "The singers whose recordings sell gimmick up their voices. They deliberately develop a recognizable singing style. On the other hand, there are some technically great singers — far superior to the top stars — who don't sell. They are too perfect."

Grayson took his own advice. He deliberately changed his well-taught baritone, and worked on a style which he hopes is "a male Joni James."

Decca is re-releasing more than 100 of Hildegarde's old records and albums. She made Decca's first album, many yoo-hoos ago, and most of her standards have gone out of print.

Now you'll be able to get them again. Excited?

Pull up a plow and we will discuss the phenomenon of the record business, alias Eddy Arnold, alias the Tennessee Plowboy.

What makes handsome, likable Eddy phenomenal is a large dose of longevity. In a business where singers come and go (mostly go), his record record is astounding.

He's celebrating his tenth year with the same record company (RCA), and he's made 275 records in those 10 years.

"And I'm not ready to quit yet," he says, grinning.

While he's known officially as a country artist, he's almost as popular with the city, or non-country, record buyers. And he's not a professional hill-billy. He dresses in normal business suits, and even in his personal appearances, he doesn't get decked out in chaps, spurs and pintos.

"Some of them," Eddy says, referring to his competitors, "get all dolled up with frizzles and spurs. I don't. I go out dressed about like I am now. The suit is cut a little countryish, maybe, but not too much. And I wear these ties because I like them."

These ties he referred to are string ties, the Eddy Arnold trademark. They started out as a country-type cravat, but some of the slickest of the city slickers have copied the style.

Jimmy Nelson, the ventriloquist, will make a children's album of Norwegian folk tales he's translating. He'll do all the voices himself. That's the advantage of being a ventriloquist — you can do a hi-fi so-lo.

DICK'S PICKS: A "sleeper" is an item called "Knock, Knock, Knockin'" on RCA, with Carmen Romano on the vocal for the Noro Morales orchestra. Others: "Anything for a Friend" (Dolores Hawkins, Epic); "I Got a Sweetie" (Jo Stafford, Columbia); "I Think I'll Cry Again" (Rosalind Paige, MGM); "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" (The Voices of Walter Schumann, RCA); "I'm Lonely My Darlin'" (Fess Parker, Columbia); "I Should Have Known" (Bob Santa Maria, MGM).

COMIC-MINDED KEFAUVERS—Estes holds Diane, 7; wife Nancy holds Gail 4, who holds family pooch; Linda, 13, holds another pooch and David, 9, looks on from the background.

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA) — When you walk into the office of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), you see he must have children. There's a bulletin board on the wall, and it's filled with colorful, childish dabblings in houses and horses and imagination.

"My kids all like to paint, so I take the best ones to show them here," Senator Kefauver said.

"That's something I learned from my work on the juvenile delinquency subcommittee. Some of the witnesses have said competition among kids is fine."

Senator Kefauver, new chairman of the delinquency subcommittee, said testimony before the group has helped him be a better father.

"I've realized more fully the importance of doing things with the kids, like going out picnicking, riding bicycles together — things that establish a contact that is certainly very pleasant for the parent and very helpful," he said.

"THAT WAY they feel you're a buddy, and don't try to keep things from you."

The senator has three daughters—Linda, 13; Diane, 7, and Gail, 4—and a son, David, who turnedy 9 two weeks ago. The three older children each go to different public schools.

"Some of the witnesses have testified about how the parents ought to take a lot of interest in parent-teacher associations. So that keeps Nancy (Mrs. Kefauver) awfully busy!" the senator said.

He said the subcommittee has discused which comic books are good and which are bad. "Now when the children bring comic books home they come around and ask whether these are good or bad," he said.

AND IT'S the same with television programs.

"The other night, David was looking at an animal TV show—about dinosaurs," Senator Kefauver said. "I told him to go to bed. He said, 'This is the kind of thing your committee said would be good. Please don't make me go.'"

The senator didn't.

Girl Scout News

Woodstock, Feb. 24—At a meeting of Intermediate Girl Scout Trop 88, of Bearsville, the Hawk patrol with Mrs. Edmund Gilligan visited the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen to see the exhibition of paintings by Woodstock artists, in connection with their drawing and painting badge. Howard Mandel, Woodstock artist, graciously spoke and explained the paintings for the girls. Meanwhile, the members of the Pigeon and Blue Jay patrols, who are the troop cooks, prepared a hearty stew for all.

The troop committee met February 18 at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Rose in Bearsville for its monthly business meeting. Present were Mrs. Gilligan, Mrs. Beldon Hyatt, Mrs. Helen Hildebrandt, Mrs. Earl Christiana, Mrs. Leo Herbert, Mrs. Malcolm Rose and Mrs. Daniel Kleine.

The Girl Scout Community Association will meet February 28 at 8 p. m. at the Onteora School.

Work by the following artists will be included in the show: Anton Otto Fischer, Edward L. Chase, Earle B. Winslow, Konrad Cramer, Florence Ballin Cramer, Alan Cochran, Norbert Heerman, Walter Seaton, Reginald Wilson, Roy Barth, Allan Sloane, Elizabeth Baker and cartoonists, Gerald and George Green and Carl Hubbell. A buffet supper by request following the reception at 7 p. m.

Dance Scheduled

Woodstock, Feb. 24 — There will be a dance at the Zena Country Club Friday, Feb. 25, at 8:30 p. m. Music will be provided by the Catskill Mountaineers. Refreshments of hot dogs and soda will be served. The public is invited and families are welcome.

Lodge Enjoys Party

Woodstock, Feb. 24 — Few members were present at the regular meeting of Agapea Rebekah Lodge Wednesday, Feb. 16, due to inclement weather. However, those present enjoyed a Valentine's party and refreshments. Donations were made to the March of Dimes and Heart funds. The date was set for the fish and chips dinner to be held on April 2. Members are invited to attend Colonial Rebekah Lodge, Kingston, on February 28, when it celebrates an anniversary.

Post Holds Meeting

Woodstock, Feb. 24—American Legion Post 1026 held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night at the Legion Hall. Clifford Dunkel, Sr., of Lake Hill was accepted as a new member. A discussion took place on the procedure to be taken on the matter of Korean War veterans. It was voted that the post would donate $5 to the Heart Fund.

Refreshments were served following the meeting, which was largely attended. A rising vote of thanks was given to Adjutant William MacReady for cleaning two paintings given to the organization by Anton Otto Fischer.

Option Is Taken

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 24 (AP)—An investment firm today annonuced purchase of an option on the Ralston creek uranium mine, a rich discovery made by a school janitor. Eugene Williams, president of the Farmington Funding Corp. with headquarters here, said development of the mine near Golden, Colo., would be started immediately. The ore deposit, described by an AEC spokesman as "one of the most significant" uranium strikes, was discovered by Fred Schwartzwalder for years an amateur prospector during the hours he was not working as Golden High School janitor. Neither Williams nor Schwartzwalder would say how much money was being paid for the option.

2. The Paris treaties to free and rearm West Germany have been ratified by the Assembly but still must be approved by the Council of the Republic, upper house of Parliament. Efforts will be made to get the debate started within a couple of weeks.

3. Negotiations with Tunisia over internal autonomy. Mendes-France was thrown out of office because of his North African poliices, just as talks with leaders in Tunisia, a French protectorate, reached a climax. Reforms also have been promised to Algeria and French Morocco.

4. Wage increases for workers. Mendes-France promised to do something in this direction in April. While Faure made no definite commitment on increases in outlining his program to the Assembly, he agreed to them in principle.

5. Tax law revision. Small merchants and shopkeepers are protesting loudly against alleged discriminations. Faure promised to study their problem but said no quick solution is evident.

Observers said Faure's large majority in the Assembly vote did not necessarily indicate his government would have a long life. The popular Republican movement, (MRP) a key party in the coalition, gave him only hesitant support. It will have to be humored if it is to remain in line.

The other parties in the coalition included Faure's own Radical Socialists (Moderates), De Gaullists and representatives of such smaller factions as the Independent Republicans, Independent Peasants, and the Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance.

Esther Cleveland, who was born Sept. 9, 1893, was the only child of a U. S. President born in the White House.

Interest Rate Raised

London, Feb. 24 (AP)—The nationalized Bank of England raised its interest rate today for the second time within a month to check the inflationary dangers Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler sees lurking in the British economy. The rate was uped to 4½ per cent. On Jan. 27 it was raised from three to 3½ per cent. This step tends to tighten credit policies throughout the world-wide sterling area. Borrowers will have to pay more for money.

CAIN RAISES A POINT OF SAFETY—Ray Cain, a chauffeur for the Kansas City, Mo., board of education shows a thought-provoking sign he painted on his car. He has spent an average of six hours per week painting such signs on his car, and in five years has painted 150 of them. Cain says he believes these signs help other motorists, who see them, drive more cautiously.

Ulster Park Resident Hurt

Frances Schlanger, 21, of Route 1, Ulster Park, was injured when the automobile in which she was riding skidded on an icy spot and struck a guard rail along the Onteora Trail about two miles west of Kingston about 2:20 a. m. today, state police reported.

Miss Schlanger was taken by Schultz' ambulance to Kingston Hospital for treatment of possible internal injuries, state police said. Her condition was listed as "apparently fair" at the hospital this morning.

State police said the automobile, driven by Walter L. Duym, 41, High Falls, was traveling east on a slight upgrade when it skidded and struck the guard rail with its left rear end. Duym suffered a possible back injury and said he would seek treatment from his own physician, troopers reported.

High Tower

A 1,572-foot television tower at Oklahoma City has taken the title of the world's tallest structure away from New York city's Empire State Building. Five years ago the Empire State Building added 222 feet to its height by construction of a television tower. It now rises 1,472 feet.

Trenton Six . . .

raisers periodically report "how much they have collected and what has happened to it." He said he opposes any requirement that fund raisers have licenses or permits or have to disclose the name of contributors.

The witness, who was counsel for three of the six men accused of murder in Trenton, said:

"Substantial sums were collected on a nationwide scale, ostensibly for the purpose of defraying the cost of an appeal and other legal expenses, yet only the merest trickle went for this purpose. I have seen the same thing happen in other cases in which I have been counsel."

Calling such fund diversion "an imposition on the public," he said that in the long run the rights of accused persons will suffer from the abuses because potential contributors will be suspicious.

In the Trenton case, six who had been sentenced to die in the electric chair for the murder of a store keeper in a 1948 holdup won a new trial after the Civil Rights Congress and other groups conducted a nationwide campaign charging denial of rights and a miscarriage of justice.

Four of the defendants finally were acquitted. One died in prison while awaiting a third trial. The sixth was resentenced in 1953 to 6 to 10 years in prison and was immediately paroled on the basis of time already served.

The original conviction was upset by the New Jersey Supreme Court. Rogge, who had argued the appeal case, testified yesterday that he then told William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, that $10,000 would be needed to finance retrial. Rogge said Patterson told him he did not have enough money to pay his staff salaries the next week.

From then on, Rogge said, the defense of three of the accused men was financed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Civil Liberties Union and the Princeton Committee without any money from the Civil Rights Congress.

Sees No Use for Hospital

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 24 (AP)—Dr. F. Lowell Bixby, acting commissioner of institutions and agencies, says he sees no "practical sense" in a proposed New Jersey Hospital for drug addicts. Bixby said yesterday such a project would involve a large capital expense while "nobody knows what the cure of those addicts is." The hospital was recommended to the Legislature by the State Narcotics Control Commission.

A movie also was shown depicting the manner in which a seeing-eye dog was trained and how a person was instructed to handle the dog. (Freeman Photo)

tasks for the defense of the west."

Membership in the planning group is now limited to Britain, France and the United States.

The four parties in Adenauer's ruling coalition have unanimously endorsed three of the Paris treaties—the pacts to restore sovereignty to West Germany, create a west European defense union, and admit West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

..BUT TWO of the factions, the Free Democrats and the Refugee party, oppose the agreement to "Europeanize" the Saar. The Free Democrats last night defied a threat by Adenauer to oust them from his coalition if they did not support the Saar accord.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats alone have 244 seats in the 487-seat House. Of the other coalition members, the Free Democrats have 48, the Refugee party 27 and the German party 15. The opposition Socialists hold 151.

The debate today, tomorrow and Saturday was to be broadcast throughout West Germany and behind the Iron Curtain by the American radio station in West Berlin.

At the close of the debate, the decision will be taken on a series of ballots. In the second reading, the treaties will be voted on paragraph by paragraph. On the third and final reading, each of the pacts will be voted on as a whole.

The treaties then go to the Bundesrat (upper House) for its final approval.

Air force headquarters claimed one Communist craft—type and size unspecified — sunk, and heavy damage inflicted on military installations on the small Red-held islands of Chihotushan (Tooth Head Mountain) and Peilungshan (North Dragon Mountain).

Given Honorable Navy Discharge, Resumes Studies

P. J. BEICHERT, JR.

P. J. (Bud) Beichert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Beichert of Port Ewen, has received his honorable discharge from the navy upon the completion of his four-year enlistment.

Beichert, who escaped unhurt during an explosion on the aircraft carrier Bennington in May 1954, enlisted at Poughkeepsie January 1951 while attending the University of Rhode Island, Kingston, R. I.

After completion of boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., he was assigned to the navy air service and was sent to schools in Jacksonville, Fla., and Philadelphia, Pa. After schooling he was assigned to the Agana Naval Air Station, Guam, and after duty in the Pacific outpost, he was assigned to the USS Bennington, an Essex-class carrier, whose home port is Quonset, R. I.

He was aboard the carrier for Operation Maritime and a Mediterranean cruise in 1953-54 and was aboard until his discharge two weeks ago.

Beichert is continuing his studies at the University of Rhode Island and recently was inducted into Lambda Chi Alpha, a national fraternity, having been pledged before enlisting in the service.

ANTHONY J. FABIANO

ANTHONY J. FABIANO, airman 3/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fabiano of 52 Cedar street, has just graduated from Radio Operator's School, Kessler Air Force Base, Miss. He is now spending a 30-day furlough at home after which he will leave for overseas duty in the Japan area. Airman Fabiano attended Kingston High School, enlisting on March 1, 1954, in the air force for four years. He received his basic training at Sampson Air Force Base.

Clergymen and Attorneys Challenge Divorce Law

Albany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Protestant clergymen and representatives of the bar today attacked New York's rigid divorce law as archaic, inadequate and unenlightened.

They were among spokesmen for approximately 30 organizations scheduled to air their views at a public hearing on a bill to establish a 23-member temporary state commission to study family relationships and matrimony.

IN A STATEMENT prepared to be read into the hearing record, the Very Rev. James A. Pike of the Episcopal Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York city, said the present divorce law was "unrealistic and has induced many well-known abuses."

And Roy M. D. Richardson, executive committee chairman of the New York City Bar Assn., urged that the law be examined with a view toward handling family and marriage problems "in a more enlightened way."

Adultery is the only grounds for divorce in this state. But the courts grant annulments. One ground for annulment is proof of a fraudulent promise made before marriage.

The bill would appropriate $25,000 to finance the proposed study. It was introduced by Republican Assemblywoman Janet Hill Gordon of Chenango county. Sen. Dutton Peterson, Odessa Republican, has introduced a similar bill in his House.

TODAY'S HEARING was before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. Chairman William H. Mackenzie, Allegany county Republican persided.

Justice Henry C. Greenburg of State Supreme Court, Manhattan, said in a prepared statement that the state's law relating to family problems had created a "deplorable condition." Actually, he added, the statutes had resulted in a "complete flouting of the law."

"What you have here," said the Rev. John O. Mellin in a statement "is a situation where the state is involved in the dissolution of the family with no instructive interest whatsoever in family problems."

The Rev. Mr. Mellin is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New York city and chairman of the New York State Citizens Committee for the improvement of family laws.

Mrs. Gordon said last night that it's "only the poor but honest who are penalized" by the state's divorce law. She said that wealthy persons went out of the state to secure divorces and that "the unscrupulous are not deterred by the law."

The princess spent last night at the exclusive Sansas Estates near here, after shooting the rapids of the Rio Grande river on a bamboo raft yesterday. She called her 8½ mile voyage down the river a "thrilling and marvelous trip."

To "cut your eye teeth" means to grow up. It started as an allusion to the fact that the eye teeth (the front ones) are among the last ones that humans cut. Eye teeth are so named because their roots nearly touch the orbits of the eyes.

Pipeline Break Affects Topeka

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 24 (AP)—Residents of this city of nearly 100,000 and seven other communities shivered in sub-freezing temperatures today after a pipeline break cut off the area's gas supply.

The majority of homes use natural gas for heating purposes.

Appliance stores reported a run on electric heaters. There also was a rush to buy ready cooked foods.

A break in the 16-inch transmission line of the Cities Service Gas Co. caused the shortage. The break has been repaired, but it may be 24 hours before service can be resumed to all buildings.

WORKMEN HAD the tedious task of turning off each individual connection and then turning them all back on again. The disconnections are necessary to eliminate all hazards when the gas pressure is restored.

Approximately 32,000 homes and business places were affected.

The gas shortage also hit the electric supply indirectly. Heavy use of electricity in heaters and cooking ranges overloaded power lines. The power and light company appealed to residents to turn off all ranges not being used for cooking purposes.

Hospitals, most commercial establishments and industries have a standby fuel such as oil and were not affected.

MOST SCHOOLS were dismissed. They can be heated by standby fuels but the city opened them to families as emergency shelters.

The heated municipal auditorium also was used for shelter with hundreds of cots and blankets—plus hot coffee—available. The Red Cross, Civilian Defense and city officials cooperated in organizing the shelters.

Other communities affected in addition to this state capital are Valley Falls, Oskaloosa, Ozawkie, Meriden, Perry, Lecompton and Grantville. All have populations of 1,500 or less.

The gas company brought extra workmen in from other areas to assist in the task of turning off and on the individual meters. Off-duty firemen in Topeka also were asked to help out.

The gas company said a defective weld caused the pipeline break.

Cheaper Runways

San Francisco (AP) — Two University of California engineers say they can save money on airport runways. Make them thinner on the edges, and save $100,000 or more on each, they suggest. Robert Horonjeff and Prof. John Hugh Jones, found that the center part of the strip takes nearly all of the punishment. They installed electric traffic detector tapes on several runways. On strips 150 to 200 feet wide, they found, 95 per cent of the traffic stays in a center area 60 feet wide. Concrete runways can be made the usual 36 inches deep in the center and only 30 inches thick on the edges, they say. Savings would vary depending on the soil, the weight of aircraft involved and the amount of traffic, but on the average could be $103,000 for an 8,000 foot runway 200 feet wide, they say.

Smoke Record

Freeport, Ill. (AP) — Eli Bennethum celebrated his 100th birthday by taking it easy on his son's farm and smoking a cigar. Smoking is an old habit with him. "I think I was smoking at two," he told a reporter. "I know I was smoking cigars at five."

More Fashions for Your Money to Be Shown In 18th Annual Event by Women's Club

More 1955 fashions for your money will be the theme of the 18th annual fashion show sponsored by the Women's Club of the YWCA. The event will be Wednesday, March 9, at 8:30 p. m. in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

FEATURED will be fashions for the budget-minded as well as sport enthusiasts. The wearable clothes from 14 Kingston shops will be for town as well as travel, emphasis placed on the career girl and the housewife's spring and summer wardrobe necessities.

THE NEW dresses curve to the body, in such glamour fabrics as pure silk and linens. The changes always begun by the Paris designers have been modified to suit the American taste and figure—as well as pocketbook. One of the latest choice dress fabrics, a combination of silk and orlon, can be washed and hung on an ordinary hanger at night, and is ready for wear the following day. A boon for travelers.

MRS. GEORGE Davenport, of the Helen Davenport Dress Shop, will be commentator for the showing. There will be background music for the models as they display the latest in spring and summer stylings.

MRS. PARKER Brinnier, general chairman, has announced that two of the participating shops will feature clothes catering exclusively to the tots of teen-age groups. Luxury furs as well as carefully chosen jewelry and accessories will be shown.

The shops participating are: Adler's Outfitters to the Young, Barbizon Shop, Inc., Berta and Merele, Bride's Shop, Cricket Shop, Hilda Lightstone, Helen Davenport Dress Shop, Junior Deb Shoppe, Leventhal Furrier, London's Youth Centre, Rae Barth, Regina's, Teresa Rose Hat Shop, and Wonderly Co., Inc.

No Peek-a-Boo

It is not a good idea to play peek-a-boo with a young baby. Sometimes a child will play the game alone pulling covers over her head, and in the excitement twist the covers in a way that will be difficult for her to remove.

STANDING ON CEREMONIES

A reader explains: "For many years we have been neighbors to a man who is a widower. We have always been very friendly, visiting back and forth and helping each other in whatever we can. Several weeks ago he went to another city to be married. Before leaving he asked me to care for some plants during his absence. Upon his return he came over for the plants and visited with us for a short while. I asked him why he didn't bring his wife along; so that we might meet her. He said that she thought it was up to me to go to see her first. I thought this utterly ridiculous in view of the long established friendship with her husband, and that it would have been perfectly proper for her to have come over with him. What is your opinion?"

Correctly, your neighbor is right but under the circumstances it would have been more friendly of him not to have stood on ceremony in waiting for you to make the first call.

A Touchy Sister-in-Law

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died recently and my brother and I are the only surviving family. My brother is married and I am not. I sent out all the acknowledgment cards signing both my name and my brother's name to them. I did not include his wife and now I understand she feels hurt over this. Was I wrong not to include her name?

Answer: No, it was really not necessary to include her name, unless she has been the wife of your brother for many years.

Coffee in Demi Tasses

Dear Mrs. Post: There was a discussion the other day among my friends as to how, and when, demi tasse should be served. We would like to know specifically if it is served without cream and sugar, and also if it is served after dinner only, or may it be served after luncheon as well?

Answer: After luncheon as well as after dinner. Sugar is always served and in recent years cream is usually proffered too.

Thank you notes or notes of condolence are described in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502, "Letter Writing." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

These all-weather, casual coats are designed on the continent for an active, outdoor American life. "Sportscar look" (left) was inspired by a convoy coat made famous by Winston Churchill. Coat has full and easy cut for action, is knee-length, lined in plaid. Coat in fine Egyptian long-staple cotton (center) has raglan type shoulders with set-in sleeves, gathered yoke back, can be worn belted or unbelted. Black coat (right) has high stand-up collar of ribbed wool knit in iridescent turquoise and rust. This has plaid lining and ribbed wool wristlets for protection against the chill of a rainy spring day.

La Trique

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

New York—(NEA)—Weather-proofed coats, designer-styled with all the detailing of custom-made casual coats, are here in this country from the continent.

These coats, designed in Germany by Valmeline, are water-repellent, wind-proof, shrink-resistant, color-fast and washable. They're done in poplins and gabardines woven from long-staple cotton and come in unusual colors.

For spring, there's an Italian blue, a peach bronze, a milky coffee brown, true reds and yarn-dyed iridescents with shimmering highlights. Hairline checks are stressed and black is combined with silver, red, green or gold. This same check is also done in pastels with white against pale pink, blue or green.

There's a long-torso look in the new coats, achieved through use of trimming, stitching and detailing. Coats taper down to the hemline in the form of a gentle V. Silhouette is both graceful and slimming.

Knee-length scooter coats can go to town, driving, to spectator sports or even to the beach over swimsuits.

Says Cash Went to Girl

New York, Feb. 24 (AP) — A Brooklyn official says former Baltimore magistrate Martin Yamin slipped $190 to the girl friend of slain gunman August Robles just one day after would-be informer Joseph Aronowitz was murdered. Acting Asst. Dist. Atty. J. Kenneth McCabe yesterday said Carmen Guzman told a grand jury how she met with Yamin in a Manhattan restaurant, got the money under the table, and later turned over the cash to Robles "in Yamin's presence." The district attorney's office contends that Yamin hired Robles and a second man known only as "Blackie" to kill ex-convict Aronowitz, 40, found shot to death Feb. 15 in his parked car in Brooklyn.

Body Is Found

Spring City, Tenn., Feb. 24 (AP) —A 12-day search for a missing 18-year-old youth who aspired to be a flying missionary ended yesterday when his body was found beside a crashed plane in the mountains but his grieving parents said they had no regrets about letting him become a pilot. "True American youth must not be made to stand still," said Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Jarnagin of Knoxville after the body of Teddy Ray Jarnagin and his battered plane were found atop nearby rugged Walden's Ridge. He was an only son.

L. L. SCHIEFFELIN

Commander Leonard L. Schieffelin of the Department of New York, Inc., Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be present at the testimonial dinner in Saugerties, Saturday, in honor of the national senior vice commander, Timothy J. Murphy of Dorchester, Mass.

THE EVENT in Saugerties Memorial Post home at 8 p. m. will also feature a membership rally, with a cup as prize for the council unit with the best record in signing members for the ensuing year, according to William H. Jordan, 115 Spring street, council membership chairman.

Schieffelin, 44, a native of Rochester where he resides with his family of three children, was a Seabee salvage diver. He saw service in the Asiatic-Pacfic theatre during World War 2.

FORMERLY an employe of Metropolitan Life Insurance and the U. S. Postal Department, he is now a salesman for a firm in Red Oak, Iowa.

Schieffelein has held various offices in the VFW from commander of James H. Lundgren Post 8948, Rochester, to the present position, having been unanimously elected in 1954.

Besides being a VFW member, he is also affiliated with the Loyal Order of Moose, National Federation of Postal Clerks and the Holy Name Society.

MEMBERSHIP Chairman Jordan, a veteran of World War 1, has been active in promoting Joyce-Schirick Post over a period of years, and hopes that the local organization will be well represented at the testimonial-membership dinner.

Jordan was activities chairman in 1945 when J-S post raised funds for the purchase of its Delaware avenue home, when Chris Perry was commander. Others mentioned prominently as diligent workers for the post include Howard Pangburn, Chris Roche, Freeman Kilquist, Edward Parmelee, Howard Shurter, John Greene, A. H. Lipgar, a past commander of Hudson Valley Counties Council; William Fuehrer, Joseph Fadoul, Leonard Miller, Albert J. Melville, Joseph Perry, also Mrs. Chris Roche and Mrs. Ralph Scism.

State Tax Aids Assigned Here

An announcement from the State of New York Department of Taxation and Finance, Albany, reveals that tax examiners will be at the court house on Wall street, March 22 through April 15, to help taxpayers with their state returns for 1954.

The notice said that the examiners here may be contacted at the office of the county auditor, office of the sheriff in the court house.

Taxpayers are invited, the press release said, to make full use of the services of the state tax men, but the bureau urged taxpayers to bring full records with them covering income, deductions and other pertinent data.

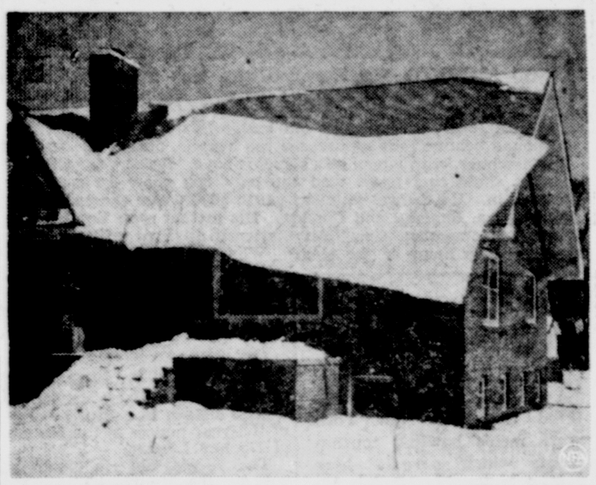

Single persons who had net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more last year and married couples who had joint net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more must file state tax returns for 1954 by April 15.

Originally, the District of Columbia contained 100 square miles, but this was cut to 69 square miles in 1849, when the portion south of the Potomac was ceded back to Virginia.

THESE EXQUISITE DOLL outfits, which were on exhibition yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Edwards, 73 Liberty street, are the work of Mrs. Mae Heaps of 110 Clinton avenue. Mrs. Heaps, who at one time made flowers for Bloomingdale's, was crippled by an illness about a year ago. It was at that time she began making doll dresses, flowers, aprons, party favors, novelties, etc. In the picture can be seen dolls in bridal gowns, bridesmaids, a flower girl, going-away clothes for the bride, flowers, etc. Mrs. Heaps, a member of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, has had only one other showing of her creations. That was at a fair at the church. She makes dresses to fit any doll. Among her flower creations are roses, tulips, delphiniums, Easter lilies, azaleas and geraniums. (Freeman Photo)

Butter, $250 a Pound?

Cambridge, Ill. (AP)—A $250 pound of butter has State's Atty. William F. Kirman scratching his head over a legal problem. M. C. Samuelson says he left a note for his milkman, and ordered a pound of butter with a signed check, the amount and payee left blank. The milkman made himself the payee and put the charge at $250, his complaint says. Kirman says the statutes make check boosting a crime, but don't deal with filling in a blank check.

Roe Quits Baseball

Baltimore, Feb. 24 (AP)—Elwin Charles (Preacher) Roe, the colorful southpaw pitcher from Ash Flat, Ark., who completed a .600 winning percentage in the big leagues, has announced his retirement from baseball.

Reached by the Associated Press early this morning at his present home in West Plains, Mo., the veteran hurler confirmed a report that he was quitting.

"Call me back in the morning and I'll tell you all about it," the Preacher said.

..ROE WAS purchased by the the Baltimore Orioles last December from the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Orioles gave up $70,000 and two minor league players for Roe and third baseman Billy Cox.

Preacher, who will be 37 Saturday, said, "it's just too much of a grind for me to get in shape and pitch. I haven't been able to take my regular turn the last couple years and last year I just found it too darn rough to pitch even once a week."

The Orioles must now get together with the Dodgers and work out a refund on the purchase price.

Klamath Falls, Ore.—Jimmy Grow, 134, Boise, Idaho, knocked out Teddy Hail, 133, Seattle, 8.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Now that the shooting is over in the Kingston Bowling Association tournament, it would not be impertinent to ask:

Just how tough are the Chalet alleys?

Before those wounded in action clamor their answer, let's point out a few things. For instance, Charlie Manfro shot a 605 net series. Leo Bechtold, the all-events kingpin, racked up 601.

There were a few other Class A totals, among them Harry Secreto's 595, Bruce Davis 566, Phil Masters 590, Buster Ferraro 577. Charlie Manfro and George Shufeldt stacked a net 1113 in doubles.

Those are first grade tournament scores that weren't approached, let's say, in the early phases of the major leagues at the Bowlodrome last fall.

Figures don't lie, they say, and these prove a large measure of the discomfort experienced by keglers on their forays to the Chalet are purely mental.

The Chalet drives never were that tough. But the city's keglers insisted on creating the legend and sold themselves. They began to believe it.

A similar situation existed years ago at the YMCA alleys. They were impossible, said some. So the major leaguers of the old City League moved in for a session and took the alleys apart. Randy Kelder, George Flemings, Fred Rice and others posted 190-plus averages. What did it prove? Good bowlers get good scores anywhere. Intermediate and average trundlers get intermediate and average results.

The experienced bowler moves around when alleys don't respond to his style of delivery. The inexperienced stays in the same dreadful rut, with dire results.

So, let's stop criticizing the KBA for staging part of the tournament there this year. The KBA has a responsibility toward all of its member establishments. Let's pass the crying towels around to those who were afflicted. But let's stop hollering about how tough the alleys are. For really, they aren't.

• Jake Chichelsky's Corner:

Don't miss Sunday's match game between Forst Packers and an outstanding team from Albany. Match time is 2:30 p. m. and it's for the Heart Fund. . . . Remember the heart you help save may be that of a relative or friend. . . . Whitey Crispell and Mannie Colao deserve a hand for their excellent work in Heart Fund collections last week. . . . Has Jim Amendola been signed as a regular member of the Jones Dairy team for the 1955-56 season? . . . The Ferraro Major finally caught on fire. Which brings us to the old discussion of whether it is the bowler or the alley conditions that make the difference in high scores. . . . Jones Dairy is the team to watch for the remainder of the Classic League run. . . . Their sleeper is Joe Cavano, who has shown vast improvement this season. . . . Ralph Garafola is due for an ABC shoulder patch for three scores of 162. . . . This is the time of the year when opposition slates are compiled to buck the regular KBA-nominated groups for city association offices. . . . We understand there will be two opposition slates this time around. The elections could develop into a real brawl. . . . A popular bowling personality has his hat in the ring for a top nomination, but we promised to keep in secret for the time being.

• Of Men and Mice:

Ed. Note: Don't know to whom Jake is referring, but is Jack Blinder an independent candidate for KBA president? . . . Wolf's Sport Shop jolted Dutchess Recs' HVBL pennants with an outstanding 3-0 shutout last Sunday. . . . Phil Versace, Rec hotshot, dipped to 118-466 . . . Dick Rhea had 500, George Baird 507. . . . Pepsi-Cola of St. Louis set the season's national scoring high of 3523 on Jan. 31. . . . Our old friends, Faber Cement Block of Teaneck, N. J., are third in the national rankings with 3463. . . . Highest individual series was the 813 rolled by Ken Rothermich, 28, of St. Louis on Feb. 2, with scores of 258, 300 and 255. What local HVBL squad will have every man declared a free agent at the end of the current season?

$1500 MASCOT—The Provo (Utah) high school basketball team has a new mascot and he's probably the most aristocratic gent in the country to hold down such a job. He's Juneter's Beautiful Peter, a 14-months-old bulldog valued at $1500. The 60-pound beauty(?) is a purebred red brindle, owned by Dr. Fred D. Kartchner, with whom he's shown, above. Peter, with a nearly perfect show ring body, won the only dog show he was ever entered in. His father, who was worth $6000, won championships in America, England and Canada. His mother won English and American championships. Peter attends all Provo High's home games. The name of the team? Why the Bulldogs, of course!

2,069 Teams In State Play

Elmira, Feb. 24 (AP)—A total of 2,069 teams have entered the 1955 New York state men's bowling tournament, which opens here March 18, tourney officials announced today.

The team total is about 200 short of the record number entered in last year's event in Utica. But in every other division, new records were set—4,701 doubles, 9,344 singles and 8,371 all-events entries.

More than 37,000 individual bowlers will take part in the tourney, which lasts through May 30.

Hawk Star in Line For Rookie Honors

(By The Associated Press)

Youthful Eddie Litzenberger of the Chicago Black Hawks has a good chance to capture rookie-of-the-year honors in the National Hockey League.

The 22-year-old right winger, sold by the Montreal Canadiens to Chicago in early December, has been one of the bright spots for the tail-end Hawks. Litzenberger produced the three-goal "hat trick" last night to give Chicago a 3-3 tie with the Boston Bruins. The deadlock eliminated the Hawks from a Stanley Cup playoff berth.

The Toronto Maple Leafs downed the New York Rangers 3-1 to solidify their grip on third place. The Leafs moved four points ahead of the fourth place Bruins.

Toronto led all the way in defeating the Rangers.

Loss to Constance Won't Halt Kid Gavilan Career

'Funny Decision,' Ex-Champion Says

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP) Kid Gavilan's defeat by Hector Constance hasn't convinced the once-mighty Cuban Keed that he's too far over the hill to fight his way back to the welterweight throne.

Constance, a smart, quick youngster from Trinidad, beat Gavilan to the punch often enough last night to score a unanimous 10-round decision over the former champion from Havana before a national television audience.

BADLY UPSET by the loss, Gavilan told reporters the decision was as "funny" as the one against him last Oct. 20 in Philadelphia, when he lost the title to Johnny Saxton.

This time, though, there weren't so many on the Kid's side. Of the 13 working newsmen at ringside, seven voted Constance the winner. Five thought Gavilan won and the other called it a draw.

Yamil Chade, a Cuban banker who became Gavilan's manager recently, said the decision was "very bad" and would be appealed to the Miami Beach Boxing Commission and the National Boxing Assn.

Judge Gus Jacobson scored the fight 97-95 for Constance. Judge Morris Feingold had it 99-97 and Referee Cy Gottfried 96-95. The Associated Press gave Constance a 97-96 edge.

GAVILAN SAID the loss had not affected his hopes of regaining the championship.

"Sure, I keep on fighting," he said. "I think I have another fight next month in New York. This funny decision not going to stop the Keed. I win every round tonight."

The 24-year-old Constance, who became a pro fighter in 1951—about the time Gavilan was winning the welterweight crown from Johnny Bratton in New York—grinned when he heard of Gavilan's comment.

"The people on television all saw me win," he said.

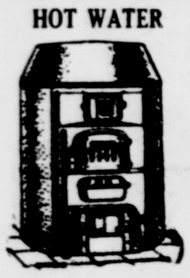

It was the 22nd victory for Constance against six defeats and six draws. The West Indies Negro is ranked ninth among the welterweight contenders. The 29-year-old Gavilan, who had hoped to register the 100th victory of his career, instead suffered his 16th defeat.

Gavilan weighed 154¼, Constance 149.

Classed as Favorites

Houston, Tex., Feb. 24 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler were the favorites today as 135 golfers began a 72-hole chase for the winter tours' biggest prize, $6,000 in top money in the $30,000 Houston Open. Other long drivers who were expected to use the long, wide fairways of the 72 par Memorial Park course to advantage included Tommy Bolt, the winner at San Diego and Tucson, and big Mike Souchak, the new Texas Open champion. Middlecoff appeared pleased with a four-under 68 in his final practice round.

Jimmy Amendola Cracks 714 for Central Rec Major Record

Paces Wilber Heating To 1155 and 3101 Highs

Jimmy Amendola who holds the mantle of the "Top 1955 Tournament Bowler," in mythical fashion at least, showed his terrific pin-busting in the recent city competition was no fluke as he battered a record-busting 714 triple in the Central Rec Major League Wednesday night.

Powered by Amendola's new loop triple, the Wilber Heating squad also established two new league records with a 1155 game and 3101 series. The team also fired 1015 and 931.

Amendola, holder of this year's Tommy Orr trophy for the top gross series of the city tournament (741), opened fast last night with a 235, rapped 211 in the middle effort and came back blazing with a sizzling 268 singleton in the finale to compile the 714 series.

JIMMY'S 714 topped the league's previous high of 704 rolled by Joe "Bush" Sangi.

The new Wilber Heating team marks surpassed the former highs of 1061 and 2961 held by Wonderly Co.

During the recently completed city tournament Amendola was a member of the Jones Dairy Ferraro Major League squad, new gross city champions. The team he anchored last night, Wilber Heating, finished in third place in the five-man event of the KBA tournament.

FRANK GRIMALDI trailed Amendola's pace-setting blast with a 655 triple on 224-177-254.

Cliff Davis posted 203-222 for 519 and Bruce Davis completed the 600 brigade with 203-234 for 514. Vern Van Dusen trailed with 499.

Frank "Boots" Leskie topped the rest of the 600 keglers last night with 239-620.

Joe Sangi rapped 204-212-614; Joe McGrane 201-226-612; George Robinson 212-224-610; Bill Schabot 205-232-614; Ed Murphy 226-609 and Harry Wilber 232-226-608.

Warriors Trip Knicks

(By The Associated Press)

The Philadelphia Warriors still have an outside chance of getting into the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division playoffs. The Warriors kept their hopes alive with a 98-96 victory over the New York Knickerbockers last night, while the Boston Celtics bowed to the Milwaukee Hawks 120-103. The victory boosted Philadelphia to within two games of the Celts in the Eastern Division. The first three teams qualify for playoff berths. The Fort Wayne Pistons whipped the Minneapolis Lakers 120-97 to increase their Western Division lead to four games.

Ready for Flamingo

Miami, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—The $139,800 Flamingo stakes to be run at Hialeah Park Saturday took shape today with 11 speedy 3-year-olds getting their final workouts and all jockeys assigned. Jockey Steve Brooks accepted the mount on Paul Andolino's unbeaten Boston Doge to complete the picture and make the winner of eight straight races, including two Hialeah stakes, a starter at 3 to 1. The same figure was quoted on Hasty House Farms' Prince Noor, who closed with a rush under jockey Johnny Adams to win the Everglades on Feb. 12 at the Flamingo distance of a mile and a furlong.

A blizzard, technically, is a snowstorm accompanied by zero or sub-zero temperatures and by high winds.

Electronic Brain Rediscovers Moon

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—An electronic brain has "rediscovered" in record time the eighth moon of Jupiter, unsighted by astronomers since 1941.

Use of the electronic device—the Univac—was announced yesterday at a news conference by Dr. Paul Herget, director of the Cincinnati Observatory.

Computations made by Univac, Herget said, enabled the eighth moon to be sighted from the Mount Wilson (Calif.) Observatory on the night of Jan. 25.

In 20 minutes, Herget said, the calculator plotted the astral path of the "missing" moon up to 1980.

Jupiter has 12 moons. Astronomers say the great masses of Jupiter and the sun pull the moons farther from a "true" circular or elliptic path—so the paths of the 12 moons can be predicted by "classical mechanical analysis" only with great difficulty.

The eighth moon is 100,000 times fainter than the faintest star visible to the naked eye.

County Officials Attend Dinner

County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft and several Ulster county officials attended the annual Paul E. Killion legislative dinner of the New York State Association of County Clerks at Albany Wednesday evening. The dinner was held at Jack's Oyster House. Edward A. Rath of Erie county is president of the State Association. Among the guests was former Lieut. Governor Frank C. Moore.

Those attending the dinner from Ulster county were Lawrence D. Craft, county clerk; Deputy County Clerks Ward Tongue and Clifford S. Van Valkenburgh; former County Clerk Harry D. Sutton; County Auditor Joseph Gentile and Thomas Bohan, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service commission.

DA Continues Investigation Of Reports of Threats

District Attorney Howard C. St. John continued investigation today to determine facts behind reports of road "jostling" or threats before the accident at Washington avenue and the Boulevard Tuesday in which Floyd Newkirk, 18, of Saugerties, occupant of a Knaust Bros. truck, was seriously injured.

Newkirk, who suffered head and chest injuries, when the panel truck and a car driven by Herbert Bolde, 27, of 146 Hudson street were in collision, was reported still in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital.

ST. JOHN SAID he had questioned three of five occupants of another car, which was not involved in the accident, but which was near the scene at the time, and he had two more to question this afternoon before determining whether there was a basis for a charge or charges against any of the persons involved.

The Knaust plant has been involved in a strike, and those riding in the Bolde car and in another driven by Christian Shaler, of Ruby, were Knaust employes, the district attorney said. Those in the truck and the others in the cars apparently are on different sides in the labor dispute, he indicated.

WILLIAM STEIGER, 29, of Saugerties, also in the truck, was injured. It was driven by Hubert Legg, 43, of Saugerties. The two injured were riding in the back, police said.

Injured in the other car, besides the driver, were Woodrow Bolde, 39, of Little Italy road, Highland, and Rudolph Schlichting, 18, of 256 Washington avenue.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

first since 1946 for the lawmakers. However, since then they have voted themselves an income tax deduction of up to $3,000 for living expenses in Washington. This is not affected by the pay legislation.

SENATORS AND representatives can get a pay raise only by voting it for themselves. It always has been considered a highly explosive issue politically.

But no such feeling was reflected in the Senate vote. Of the 32 members who must run next year, 21 voted for the bill, 7 opposed it, 4 were absent.

The Senate bill contains one bonus for the lawmakers not in the House version. This is a provision which would allow them expenses for five trips to their home states each year, in addition to the 20 cents a mile they now receive for one round trip.

Before passing the bill, the Senate overwhelmingly defeated a series of alternatives.

Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn (D.-Tex.) are assured of a $5,000 raise to $45,000 each. Both bills contain this.

Dynamite Is Recovered

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 24 (AP)—Police today recovered 23 sticks of dynamite and a quantity of detonator caps stolen by juveniles from the Rock Asphalt Co. Six teen-age boys were in custody. No charges were placed against them immediately and none was identified. However, police said all six would be brought into court. Police said recovery of the 23 sticks accounted for all the dynamite stolen, except for six sticks exploded by the boys and one stick thrown into a pond. None of the six explosions caused much damage.

As early as 1867, J. C. Maxwell of Edinburgh introduced a theory of etheral waves.

being appropriated to build up its atom bomber force. The estimates of the other two services —the army and navy—dropped but the air force appropriation jumped from 491,640,000 pounds ($1,376,592,000) last year to 513,900,000 pounds ($1,438,920,000).

This allowed for 26½ million pounds ($74,200,000) out of aid given by the United States toward defense burdens undertaken by Britain. Last year the aid was 45,360,000 pounds ($127,008,000).

DESCRIBING SOME of the atomic age air defense problems Britain is tackling, the white paper said:

"We must provide the bases required in peace and war, bearing in mind that the "V" bomber force must be capable of completing its mission even though a surprise attack might first have been launched on this country.

"We must perfect methods of operation which would ensure success, however difficult the conditions."

The nuclear threat has "intensified" the need for the highest possible state of readiness, the white paper said, adding:

"The largest single project at home has been the reconstruction of the radar chain (warning screen against air attack). It now covers the whole of the United Kingdom."

New Paltz

Survey Questionnaire Results Announced

New Paltz, Feb. 24—In a recent questionnaire survey in the town of New Paltz 141 persons said what they liked most about the township was its "friendly people."

A total of 117 said they liked "everything" about the town and 109 reported they liked its "small town atmosphere." Fifteen persons said they liked "nothing."

These results are among the first released by a joint committee of members of the League of Women Voters and the New Paltz Chamber of Commerce.

A total of 955 calls were made in the survey resulting in 772 completed interviews. One hundred and eighty-three interviews could not be completed for several reasons. Of these, 62 were summer residents, 66 families were not at home when the interviewer called, 12 houses were vacant and 19 new homes were as yet unoccupied. Only 24 persons did not wish to take part in the survey.

Taking into consideration the fact that while some persons interviewed live alone and speak only for themselves, many of the interviewees represented family groups of anywhere from two to 11 people. The total coverage of the survey, that of 2490 men, women, and children comprised a sizeable proportion of the town's population.

Survey results will be released periodically by the committee. Mimeographed copies of tables of results will soon be distributed to organizations and interested individuals. Since no plan has yet been made to compile the articles that will appear, those who are interested in keeping the results of the survey for reference are urged to clip and save them.

The defendant brings a counter claim alleging the work was not in accordance with the contract. Cook and Cook by Francis Tucker appears for plaintiffs and Alfred Hafke of Harp and Hafke of New Paltz appears for defendants.

Announced as settled were the following cases:

No. 2, Barry Brice against Donald Carlesco, property damage. Schirmer and Carnright for plaintiff.

No. 17, Sadie Goodman against Harry Kossar, conversion. Louis B. Scheinman for plaintiff and Louis Berger for defendant.

No. 49, Valentine Garrison against Angelo DeMarco, negligence. Scott and Hoyt for plaintiff and Charles W. Jenkins for defendant.

No. 51, Lillian Van Leuven against Kenneth Clark, negligence. Richard F. Russell for plaintiff and Robert V. Stapleton for defendant.

Criminal matters have been put over to Monday afternoon.
